UNIT-6

Around the Globe

Digital Workbook

Vocabulary: Travel and tourism 1

Complete the paragraph

1.The hotel I stayed at in Belize was superb – everything was very high quality. And I've never seen anything more beautiful than the view of the bea ch from my balcony. I've been to a lot of beaches, but none of them was this gorgeous. It was stunning!

2.The scenery in Cape Town includes mountains, beaches and the city, and all of it is gorgeous and exciting – it' rather dramatic! I was very surprised at how many different types of scenery could exist in one town – the variety was astonishing!

3.My grandfather's house in the mountains is huge and very nice. At first, you can't see it very well from the roa d, but when you get closer, it's very impressive because it's so large. And the views from the house are breathtaking! You can see more mountains and some waterfalls in the distance, and lots of animals. I love going there!

4.I'll never forget my last holiday. I thought about just lying on the beach as usual, but I wanted to do something truly special that I'd never done before – something very unique – so I went to the Yucatán Peninsula instead. One day, I went swimming in a huge underground cave. It was one of those moments that always stays with you – it was a very memorable experience for me.

5.When I was in Vietnam, I ate 'pho', a Vietnamese soup. It was absolutely delicious, and I'd never eaten food from Vietnam before. My Vietnamese friends thought it was funny that it was so exotic for me, because they eat it every day. For me, it was something unusual that really caught my attention – I never knew noodles could be made out of rice. They seemed remarkable to me, but to my friends they're completely normal.

Complete the conversation

A: Wow! Look at the view out this window! It's so beautiful!
B: Oh yes, it's stunning! But to be honest, I don't like heights much. I can't believe people live in these mountain houses. I find it astonishing that anyone would want to be this high up all the time! I'm glad we're only here for the weekend.

A: This food is superb! It's the most delicious thing I've ever eaten.
B: I know! The way it's both sweet and salty, crunchy and chewy, but it's still really tasty; it's really remarkable, isn't it?

A: I'll never forget my trip to Russia.
B: What made it so memorable?
A: Well, it was during the white nights, which means that for months it never got dark at night. I've never experienced anything like it.
B: Yes, that does sound like a unique experience!

A: The new hotel in the city centre is so tall, and it's very modern. It even has a shopping centre in it!
B: Yes, it's really impressive, isn't it? I hear they're also going to add restaurants with food from around the world, so people can enjoy exotic meals there.

A: Look at that waterfall! It looks like it's coming right out of the clouds.
B: Yes, this place has a lot of dramatic scenery. And it's just beautiful!
A: Yes, it really is breathtaking.

Vocabulary: Travel and tourism 2

Complete the sentences

1. Yesterday we went hiking in the woods. We saw a lot of beautiful things, but the most impressive feature we saw was a breathtaking waterfall!

2. The new blocks of flats are very nice, and they're in a beautiful setting, with a great view of the mountains. However, they're not very convenient – it takes an hour to get to the centre of town from there. It wasn't a good idea to build flats on the outskirts of town – I don't think a lot of people who work in the city will want to live there.

A: Let's eat dinner outside tonight. I think the hotel is serving dinner on the terrace.
B: Sounds good. How do we get there?
A: Take the lift to the ground floor. Turn left and walk through the lobby. It's just past the reception desk.

A: We need to hire a place for the company party.
B: What kind of venue are you thinking of?
A: Well, since we're a design company, I was thinking of something to do with the arts.
B: Oh, I've got the perfect place! My friend is an artist, and he has a large studio in the centre of town. I bet he'd let us use it.

A: Excuse me, but how do I get to the departures hall of this airport?
B: Hmm… which terminal are you flying out of?
A: From A. Aren't they all together?
B: Well, they're updating the airport, so A and B are over there, but C is behind the structure over there. It's going to be a car park, but at the moment it doesn't look like much.

My sister is an artist. Her studio is very small, but it has an amazing window, and she loves to paint in front of it. It's her favourite feature of the place.

A: Wow, this outdoor space is amazing!
B: Thank you. I spend a lot of time out here on the patio.
A: It's really beautiful here, outside the city.
B: Yes, I think it's a great setting for a home!

A: I really love living in the centre of town. I don't think I could live on the outskirts of town – I'd feel too far away from everything!
B: I disagree. I'd love to be closer to nature. It would be nice to be able to go hiking whenever I want. I always feel better after a walk in the woods.

A: This community centre is such a great place to have a family reunion.
B: Yes, it's a wonderful venue. They also have little structures in the back for children to play in – sort of like a little town of play houses. It really is nice.

A: Excuse me, how do I check out of this hotel? And how can I get a taxi to the airport?
B: Just ask at the reception desk in the lobby. The man working there can check you out, and he'll call a taxi for you. Just remember to tell him the terminal you're flying out of, so he can let the driver know.

Grammar: Infinitives and -ing forms 1

Choose the sentence that has a similar meaning to the first one

1. Helena used to call me a lot, but she doesn't any more.

Helena stopped calling me.

2. When I was a child, I went to the zoo, and I remember it.

I remember going to the zoo when I was a child.

3. Lorna decided to take the bus to school instead of driving, but the bus didn't come.

Lorna tried to take the bus to school.

Complete the sentences

1.Riding a bike is difficult, but once you learn to ride, you never forget!

2.I was happy to help
Mackenzie learn to speak English when she first moved here. After university, she became an English teacher an d went on to help many other people learn English. It made me very proud.

Complete the conversation

A: I noticed Hannah laughing throughout the class. I wonder what was so funny.
B: I don't know, but the teacher looked pretty annoyed. He didn't seem happy about her laughing in his class!

A: Sorry I'm late! I stopped to buy some fruit, and the shop was really busy.
B: Don't worry! I've just been sitting here, listening to the birds singing. This is a beautiful park! Nice choice for a picnic!

A: I'm really tired! I'm going to my room to rest.
B: That's a good idea. I noticed you kept sneezing a lot this morning. Aren't you feeling well?
A: Oh, that's allergies. I'm just tired and I want to lie down.

A: Wow! You can run for a long time. You're not even tired, but I'm exhausted!
B: Yes, well, I really enjoy running, so I do it a lot.
A: I have to admit, running isn't my favourite way to work out. I keep fit by doing yoga.

A: What do you think about getting a takeaway tonight instead of going to a restaurant?
B: I don't know. Going out to eat is my favourite thing to do!
A: I know, but it's not possible to eat out as often as we do. We don't earn enough money. By eating at home, we'll save money.

Grammar: Infinitives and -ing forms 2

Complete the sentence with the correct form of the verb in brackets

1.Last month, Moira took a boat to go (go) whale watching. She said it was amazing!

2.After we visit my uncle in Toulouse, we're going to stay (stay) with my grandmother in Narbonne.

3.As I was walking upstairs to go to bed last night, I noticed someone standing (stand) outside the front door. I was scared at first, but it was just my flatmate, trying to find his keys.

4.Ted and Harold were happy to see (see) Anya, but they had forgotten how much she talks. She just kept talking (talk) the whole time. They couldn't say a word!

5.I'm really looking forward to going (go) on holiday next week. I'll be happy to take (take) a break from work and just relax.

6.I saw Margaret on the way to work yesterday. I stopped to talk (talk) to her for 45 minutes! It was great to find out how she's doing. We used to work together, but she stopped working (work) at my company about two years ago.

7.When you're in Paris, remember to visit (visit) the Louvre. I remember visiting (visit) it when I went there – it's still one of the most memorable experiences of my life!

Complete the conversation with the correct form of the verbs below

A: Writing that essay was really difficult! I tried to get Mark to help me, but he wasn't around, so I just did my best. I don't think it's very good.
B: I didn't even get that far! My computer's broken, so I tried doing it on my brother's old computer. However, before I could save my work, the computer shut down!

A: Would you like to go to the match with me?
B: Thank you for inviting me, but I don't think so. It's too difficult to get tickets. I want to watch it at home instead.

A: I really enjoy sitting in the park and admiring the scenery. It helps me calm down.
B: Yes, and I enjoy watching the animals. I especially like to observe them caring for their babies in the spring.

Complete the sentence

1.This famous building in Spain looks exactly as it did almost 1,000 years ago. It has been preserved very well.

2.Unfortunately, many historic buildings no longer exist, because they've been lost due to disasters or people not taking care of them.

3.Those who remember old cultural traditions often teach them to other people. That is a wonderful thing that he lps revive the traditions instead of letting them further deteriorate.

4.The people of the Algonquin tribe in North America were worried because the number of Algonquin speakers had declined. Therefore, they started offering language classes to save the language before it disappeared.

5.More people are riding their bikes to work instead of driving. Since the number of cyclists has increased, the c ycle paths are more crowded. However, driving to work takes less time than it used to, because the number of dr ivers has decreased.

6.The coral reefs are fragile ecosystems that are being destroyed by humans. We have to preserve coral reefs. If we don't, a lot of fish that live there will become extinct.

7.My music school is trying to get people interested in classical music again. We're trying to revive people's interest by putting on concerts and playing at local schools.

8.Global warming is affecting more than just the weather – many species are endangered or becoming extinct as well. For example, as temperatures have increased, the amount of ice and snow in the Arctic has decreased, so it's harder for animals in that environment to survive.

Complete the second sentence so that it has the same meaning as the first. Use the verbs that mean the same thing as the words in bold

1.When the things wild animals eat are gone, the number of wild animals goes down.

2.When the things wild animals eat disappear, the number of wild animals declines.

3.As the condition of natural habitats gets worse, more species stop existing.
As the condition of natural habitats deteriorates, more species are lost.

Vocabulary: Describing changes 2

Complete the sentence

1.The house used to be beautiful, but no one took care of it for years, so now it's falling apart. Because of the deterioration of its walls, it wasn't safe, so it had to be demolished.

2.Although many indigenous languages were in danger of disappearing, more people are learning them now. There's been a revival in interest in studying them because more people want to learn about their cultures.

3.Preservation programmes are important, as they can prevent the disappearance of some rare species.

4.The company was in trouble because it had experienced a decrease in sales, so they offered a promotion. Within a month, there was an increase in sales. Everyone was very happy.

5.The decline of rainforests has caused many species to die out.

Complete the pairs with noun forms of the verbs

1.decline decline
2.decrease decrease
3.deteriorate deterioration
4.disappear disappearance
5.increase increase
6.preserve preservation
7.revive revival

Complete the sentence

1.Since the large shopping centre opened, many smaller shops are starting to close because fewer people shop at them now. The decline in customers is causing them to die out.

2.It used to be cheap to go on holiday to Malta, but now it's more expensive. The increase in cost has led to a decrease in tourism, because fewer people can afford to go there.

Complete the paragraph

1.Ten years ago, the city centre was ugly, and no one wanted to go there. The buildings were falling down and the roads were bad – there was a lot of deterioration. However, about five years ago, the city invested money into attracting new businesses and fixing the roads. Because of this, there's been a revival of the city centre – now it's a very popular place.

2.In many cities, old buildings are demolished so new ones can be built. However, historical societies work on the preservation of old buildings with important history, so they can continue to exist, and people can learn about the town's history. This is to stop their disappearance due to new development – if the buildings are gone, so are important pieces of the town's history.

Grammar: The passive 1

Complete the sentence

1.Roger really wanted to go on the swings at the park, but all the swings were being used.

2.When I went back to the shop to buy the dress, all the ones in my size had been bought.

3.Thank you for donating these old shirts. They'll be used to make bags. We're going to sell them for a charity.

4.The next book in my favourite series is being written at the moment!

5.My mum wanted to get fit, so she started either walking or riding her bike everywhere. She sold me her car las t week. It hadn't been written in over a year when she sold it to me!

6.Some of the food has been eaten, but we still have a lot left.

7.The winners will be chosen sometime next week. For their prize, they are going to be sent to Barbados for a free holiday!

8.The containers for the plants are made of plastic. They were made from old water bottles. We just cut a hole in them, filled them with soil and planted our seeds!

9.This bag is made out of old T-shirts. It was made by cutting them up and sewing them back together.

10.This birthday card was made by hand. It was made with crayons and paint.

Grammar: The passive 2

Complete the paragraphs with the correct prepositions

1.Glass vases are made by heating sand until it melts. The liquid is then blown into a shape and dipped in water. Coloured glass is made of/from sand and different types of metal. Some glass is made by hand, but most is made in factories by machines. It's faster and less expensive.
2.Machines make a lot of things that used to be made by people, like electronics that have to be made with tiny tools that are too small for people's hands. However, some people are recycling factory-made things to make unique things. For example, some people make art from/out of old glass bottles, by breaking the glass and arranging it into a picture.

Complete the second sentence so that it has the same meaning as the first. Use the passive form of the word in bold

1.Could I please have another pencil? Someone broke this one.
Could I please have another pencil? This one is broken/was broken.

2.The photographer is taking the children's pictures in the cafeteria at the moment.
The children's pictures are being taken in the cafeteria at the moment.

3.Please save your carrier bags! You can use them again.
Please save your carrier bags! They can be used again.

Complete the sentence with the correct passive form of the verb in brackets

1.There's a spare desk in the office, but it is not being used (not use) today.

B2.y the time I found the chocolate, it was being eaten (eat) by my nephew. He gave me a big smile and continued to eat it!

3.That book has been read (read) so many times that it's starting to fall apart!

4.Today, noodles are made (make) with special machines, but 100 years ago, they were made (make) by hand.

5.The city is planning to build a new town hall. When it's done, it 's going to be used / 'll be used (use) for meetings, and it 'll be hired / 's going to be hired (hire) for parties, too.

A: By the time we got to the restaurant, all the parking spaces had been taken (take).
B: That's so annoying! I ate there last month. The food is delicious, but the staff are rather impatient. We were expected (expect) to order as soon as we got our menus!

Listening: Asking for a favour 1

Why doesn't Zoe get the cake?

The cake isn't ready.

Listen to the conversation and choose the correct sentences.

1 Victor got rid of his car.
2 Martin's got a car that isn't working.

Listen to the conversation and choose the correct answer.

giving someone a lift

Listen to the conversation and complete the sentences.

Zoe will be driving a lot to do things for the party.
She's going to drop off the cake before she picks Sabrina up.
She can get the cake if she can pick it up earlier.

Listen to the conversation and choose the correct answer.

Why doesn't Zoe get the cake?

The cake isn't ready.

Listen to the conversation and complete the sentences.

Margot works near the bakery.
She hasn’t got to change her plans to get the cake.
She wants something in exchange for getting the cake.

Listen to the conversation and choose the correct answer.

What does Margot want in exchange for getting the cake?

a lift

Listening: Asking for a favour 2

Read and listen to the conversation.

Speaking: Introducing requests; Showing you are grateful 1

Complete the conversation

A: I was wondering if you wouldn't mind lending us your car. I've got to pick up balloons for the party.
B: No, that's fine.
A: Thank you. I'm really grateful.
B: It's no trouble at all. I'm happy to help.

A: Do you mind if I ask you something?
B: No, go right ahead.
A: I'm really sorry to ask you this, but can you help me move my bookcase? It's too heavy for me.
B: Sure, no problem.
A: Thank you! I really appreciate it.
B: It's not a problem.
A: No, really. I don't know how to thank you. B: My pleasure.

A: There's an idea I'd like to run past you.
B: What is it?
A: Do you mind if we have the party at your house?
B: No, not at all.
A: Thank you! It's so kind of you.
B: Oh, don't worry about it.

Choose the correct number to order the conversation

2 Go right ahead.

5 Thank you. That's really nice of you.

4 Sure, I can take you.

1 Do you mind if I ask you something?

3 I'm really sorry to ask you this, but could you take me to work?

Complete the conversation

A: I'm really sorry to ask you this, but could you help me move this weekend?
B: Sure.
A: Thanks! I really appreciate it.
B: It's not a problem.

A: Could you please come and get me? My car's broken down!
B: Sure. I'm happy to help.
A: I'm really grateful. I don't know how to thank you.
B: It's no trouble at all.

A: There's an idea I'd like to run past you.
B: What is it?
A: I was wondering if you wouldn't mind walking my dog while I'm away?
B: No, not at all.
A: Thank you. It's so kind of you.
B: It's no trouble at all.

A: Do you mind if I ask you something?
B: Go right ahead.
A: I hope you don't mind my asking, but could you please buy me some fruit when you go to the shops? I'm really busy and can't go until Friday.
B: No, that's fine.
A: Thank you. That's really nice of you.
B: Oh, don't worry about it.

Speaking: Introducing requests; Showing you are grateful 2

Reading: Travel blog: Around the Grand Canyon

What summarises the trip best?

learning something and experiencing something special

Read the travel blog and choose the correct answers.

What did the author do on her trip?

1 went to an old town

2 ate a new food

3 saw animals in their natural habitat

Read the travel blog and choose the true sentences.

1 The author ended up having a good time.

2 The author learnt a lot on the trip.

Read the travel blog and complete the sentences.

The author's father enjoys working with plants.
The author's sister enjoys preparing food.
The author's mother enjoys reading.

Read the travel blog and choose the correct answers.

Which word would the restaurant use to describe its food?

historical

Read the travel blog and choose the correct answers.

1 There were lots of insects at Assateague Island.

2 There was a special event at the island.

Read the travel blog and choose the correct answer.

What would be the best full title for this blog?

Around Virginia: History and Horses

Writing: Using descriptive language

Complete the paragraph

1.I went hiking the other day. I usually enjoy hiking a lot – the mountains near my home have awesome views. However, today's hike was pretty uninspiring. I'd been hiking for about half an hour when it started to rai n heavily. By the time I got home, I was absolutely soaked!

2.Last year, my sister and I went camping on the beach. We often camp there, so we weren't expecting anything different from the usual peace and relaxation. However, the trip wasn't ordinary at all! When we got there, there was a huge festival. There must have been three thousand people on the beach – it was unbelievable! I don't remember the last time I had that much fun. We danced all night and made loads of new friends. It was fabulous!

3.My dad invited me to go to Prague with him to meet some family members I'd never met. I said yes right away, as I had no plans for the summer. When I got there, I met my cousins – and one of them looks just like me! It was mind-blowing! I'll always remember that trip. Not only was it an unforgettable holiday, but it was the experience of a lifetime!

4.When I was a teenager, I went to Malta with my parents. We saw structures that were thousands of years old. It was awe-inspiring to see buildings that had been there longer than the Egyptian pyramids. While we were there, we stayed in an old farmhouse, which was a whole new experience for us. However, it didn't have a TV or Internet. My parents really enjoyed being screen-free, but I found it a bit dull. I had nothing to do.

5.My best friend and I went to the mountains last summer. One day, we saw the most beautiful sunset I've ever seen. It was truly out of this world. Afterwards, we went to a restaurant that someone at our hotel had recommended. The food wasn't very good, but even though that was disappointing, the restaurant's patio overlooked a waterfall. It was an experience in itself! Despite the food, we had a pretty good time.

Complete the paragraph. Replace the words in brackets with descriptive adjectives and phrases with similar meanings

1.Life in the Bahamas is very different from life back home. Even doing something ordinary (you do every day), like taking the bus into town, can be an adventure! My friends and I found this out last summer! The first day we were there, it took us three hours to find the bus stop. The bus was packed with people – it was mind-blowing (very surprising) how many people were able to fit in the bus! We met a very nice woman who showed us how to get to the main market in town. It was hard to find, but totally worth it once we were there – the souvenirs were absolutely (totally) fabulous!

2.It was late when we finally made it back to our campsite. We were staying in small cabins on the beach. There wasn't any electricity, which was an experience in itself (unique experience). It was difficult at first, and sometimes not being able to be on my phone was pretty dull (boring), but after a few days, I didn't even miss it. It was unbelievable (not easy to believe) how quickly I got used to it.

3.The next morning, I woke up to an awesome (very nice) sunrise. I've never seen anything so awe-inspiring (beautiful). It was truly unforgettable (something I probably won't forget)!

4.Unfortunately, the rest of the day was pretty uninspiring (uninteresting). It rained all afternoon, so we spent the day inside. However, after the disappointing (poor) weather, the sunset was gorgeous. And we saw dolphins swimming in the sea, which had turned red because of the sunset! It was a whole new experience (something I'd never experienced before).

5.Overall, my time in the Bahamas was fabulous (very good). The scenery was out of this world (impressive), and I was absolutely (really) amazed by all the animals I saw and experiences I had. It was definitely the experience of a lifetime (that doesn't happen often)!

Writing: Travel blog

Extension

Reading Extension

Read the article. Choose the correct summary.

Although many people think language change is bad, it is in fact normal.

Read the article again. Can the ideas below be found in the article? Choose Yes or No.

Some languages never change.
No

Languages can change because of technology.
Yes

Everyone speaks a language in a slightly different way.
Yes

We don't normally change the way we speak because of how other people speak.
No

Every generation of speakers influences the way a language is spoken.
Yes

Jonathan Swift wanted to protect the English language.
Yes

Jonathan Swift was able to stop some changes in English.
No

Linguists today think language change is natural.
Yes

Dr Johnson changed his mind about language change.
Yes

English may stop changing in the future.
No

Read the article again. Choose the correct answers.

1. What does the writer say about language in small communities?

2. What point is the writer making when mentioning grandparents?

3. Which of the following things do we learn when Jonathan Swift is mentioned?

4. What positive aspect of language change does the writer mention?

5. What do we learn about Dr Johnson?

6. What does the writer suggest in the final sentence?

Correct Answers:
1 There is a lot of variation, for many different reasons.
2 That language changes over time even if people stay in the same place.
3 That, unlike in France and Italy, there was no national institution to protect the English language

4 It allows speakers to adapt to changing situations.
5 He changed his mind about whether language change could be stopped.
6 Some people will always dislike how English changes.

Writing Extension

Listening Extension

Listen to the podcast. Choose the topics that the people mentioned.

Mike

music, food

Samantha

sport, food

Louise

sport, music, food

Listen to the podcast again. Choose the correct answers.

1. Which reason does the presenter not give for why people go on 'staycations'?

2. What does Mike say about what made the staycation special?

3. What do we learn about Mike and his wife?

4. Which of the following statements is true about Samantha's staycation?

5. What does Samantha say about the food she ate?

6. What do we learn about Louise's children during their staycation?

7. Which of the guests would recommend a staycation to the listeners?

Correct Answers:
1 to have a chance to do work around the house
2 the small changes to how he spent his day
3 They don't normally eat breakfast together.
4 She didn't do everything she had originally planned to do.
5 She ate takeaways several times.
6 They were unable to follow a rule Louise had made.
7 All three guests

Speaking Extension

Academic Skills

Lead-in

Complete the sentences

Uber customers can get a car simply by using the app on their phones.
Cohealo is a platform which allows hospitals within a network to share their medical equipment.
On TaskRabbit, users can check the availability and price of a tradesperson such as a plumber.
JustPark's platform allows hundreds of thousands of drivers to access parking spaces.
Airbnb allows homeowners to connect with people looking to rent a room.
The basic idea of ZipCar is to allow people to rent a car for as short a time as one hour.

Reading 1: Understanding main ideas

1. The potential size of the sharing economy market is

2. A sharing economy

3. For someone with a car, the idling time

4. In the 20th century,

5. Prices for certain services used to be higher because

6. To do business this century, people

Correct Answers:
1 uncertain.
2 offers your assets to others to use.
3 might be when they are at work and the car is parked.
4 customers paid too much for certain services.
5 the distributor and the middleman needed to be paid.
6 don't require anything but a good platform.

Reading 2: Understanding reference words

Look at the words in bold in the article. Choose the people or things that the words refer to.

1.This is the question
How much more can the sharing economy grow?
2.One definition
So, what do we mean by a sharing economy?
3.those assets
our house, car or clothes
4.examples car sharing, jewellery rental and accommodation swapping 5.this the hours or days when our asset is not in use 6.Each of them
middlemen and others responsible for distributing goods and services 7.them
the artist and the customer

Listening 1: Listening for detail

As you may know, he was the founder of one of the most successful trading platforms ever – eBay.
He saw the potential of a single global marketplace which everyone in the world had access to.
He had proved two of the key reasons for success in a sharing economy – accessibility and availability.
So, what are some of the reasons for the success of what we call collaborative consumption?
Firstly, it brings together people with shared values. It creates a community.
They are written with other customers in mind, what we can call peer-to-peer, which larger corporate marketing simply doesn't do.

Listening 2: Following a line of argument

Listen to the second part of the lecture. Choose True, False or Not given.

1.The speaker doesn't want to rent out a room in his house. Not given
2.People in the West are less keen on sharing their property. True
3.Growth in the sharing market is potentially huge. True
4.A lot of growth in the sharing economy will be in Asia. Not given
5.Access is a key element for the sharing economy. True
6.Start-up businesses always struggle to get customers. False
7.The company providing the sharing platform usually makes a loss. False

Reading 3: Understanding main ideas

Read the profile of a leading company in the sharing economy. Choose the sentences that best express the main ideas in the profile.

1.Damage is done to the planet because people drive extra miles looking for a parking space.

2.The founders of JustPark saw an opportunity to make money without building car parks.

3.Access to the platform allows customers to reserve a space in advance of their arrival at their destination.

4.The company has the potential to expand.

5.This type of business has a promising future because growth brings benefits to all parties.

6.Using the platform saves time and money and also reduces carbon emissions.

7.Accessibility and availability are not the only deciding factors in whether a start-up company is successful.

Listening 3: Understanding logical connections

Listen to two student presentations about two different companies. Complete the sentences with the words the students use to join ideas.

1.First of all, you have to enter some personal information and credit card details which means you can then get a driver at any time. ... you get a message with the details of the car coming to get you, namely the driver's first name, type of vehicle and licence plate number. Unlike normal taxi firms, it also gives you a rating for the driver and an estimated cost for the trip.... it allows you to know what other people thought of the driver. In fact, female passengers comment that they feel safer because they have this information in advance.

2.Smaller hospitals, by contrast, cannot afford such equipment. Idle equipment is, in effect, a waste of money. They will achieve this by pooling hospitals' resources – in other words, getting hospitals to share equipment. This not only allows the larger hospitals to earn money on their equipment but it also allows smaller hospitals access to equipment they wouldn't normally be able to afford.

Digital Work Book – Unit -07

Lesson A

Vocabulary – Describing the Life in the Cities 1

1. Complete the sentence

   The people who don't live in the neighbourhood love the shopping centre, but the local residents hate it. They say it's made traffic much worse in their area.
2. Sheila likes her neighbourhood, but she spends a lot of time driving around looking for a parking space for her car. She wishes she had a garage!
3. When they started building the new motorway, the city had to close off some parts of the roads for construction. It's made traffic congestion worse than ever.
4. Ten years ago, most of Exeter was factories, small businesses and homes. But now there are lots of huge office buildings and expensive blocks of flats, because of urban development. However, the city hasn't added more buses or trams, so public is always very crowded.
5. Breathing problems are more common in the people who live near the factory in ourneigh bourhood, due to all the air pollution.
   People near there are selling their homes because the quality of life is worse in that part of the city.
6. Myra's going to be late for work again. She left her house at 6:00 am to drive to work, but the traffic congestion is so bad that she's still sitting in her car on the motorway.
7. Krista's new flat is so convenient – she's got a bus stop on the corner and a tram stop down the road. She's really lucky to live so close to public transport
8. It's getting really hard to breathe in the city centre because the air pollution is so bad there.
9. My great-grandmother is 96, but she still does her own shopping, spends time with her friends and i s very healthy. Her quality of life is very good.
10. Her neighbours also help her when she needs it; she's lived in her town all her life, so, all the local residents know her well.
11. There are a lot more buildings than there used to be around here. All the urban development has made local residents very unhappy.
    Some of them have lived here for years and are used to things being a certain way – like no t having to drive around for 45 minutes to find a parking space.

Vocabulary – Describing the Life in the Cities 2

1. Marie's quality of life has increased since she's started doing yoga. She feels great and she's made friends with some people in her class. Her only complaint about the class is that she sometimes has a hard time finding a parking space for her car – the yoga studio is so popular, it's always very busy.

2. I need to start taking the underground. Traffic congestion is so bad in this city that it takes me ages to drive to work.
   B: Well, the underground isn't much better. So many people have moved here that public transport is really crowded.

3. This used to be a small, quiet neighbourhood, but due to urban development it's now very crowded and loud. There are very few parks, and the air quality is bad – air pollution has become quite a problem. Local are trying to stop the construction of new buildings in their community, but they haven't had much success so far.

4. Lana was unhealthy, but she changed her diet and started exercising. She's made close friends through her gym. Now she feels great and her quality of life is much better.

5. Denise has started riding her bike to work because she couldn't deal with driving there anymore. It took a long time because the traffic congestion is so bad where she lives.

6. The new factory on the outskirts of town has brought jobs to the community, but it also releases a lot of chemicals into the air. It's causing a rise in air pollution in the neighbourhood.

7. More families are moving here, so there are a lot more students in my class than there used to be. Due to urban development, there are more jobs and flats, but we still have the same number of schools. We need to build more.

8. Lita arrived late at the restaurant and there wasn't an available parking space in the restaurant's car park. She had to go to the car park down the road.

A: So, how was your volunteer work at the park?
B: Well, there really wasn't much to do. The people who live in the neighbourhood keep it very clean. I actually met a few of the local residents and they were very proud of their park.

Do you want to drive into town or take the bus?
B: Let's take the bus. Traffic is horrible at this hour. Public transport is usually faster.

Grammar – too/ enough; So/such 1

Put the words in the order.

A. There is enough food for everyone.
B. It isn’t hot enough to swim.
C. This is such a beautiful city.

Choose the sentences that mean the same as the first one.

You're very clever!

1. You're so clever!
2. You're such a clever person!

I'll never forget the trip because it was very enjoyable.

The trip was too enjoyable to forget.
2 It was such an enjoyable trip that I'll never forget it.
3 The trip was so enjoyable that I'll never forget it.

Complete the sentences.
Sebastian plays guitar very well. He's good enough to be in a band. In fact, he's so good that I think he'll be in a famous band one day!

A: I like my new neighbourhood, but there are too many people, and they make too much noise.
B: Well, that's life in a city! I'm sure there are some good things about it.
A: Of course. I've made lots of interesting friends. I really enjoy talking to them, even though it's sometimes too loud to hear each other talk!

A: Thank you so much for dinner! I had such a good time!
B: It was such a pleasure to see you! I'm so glad that we got to catch up.

A: Let's have lunch in the park! It's nice enough to have a picnic.
B: I wish we could, but there isn't enough time to have one. We have to pick Lisa up from school in half an hour and take her to football practice. And after that, it'll be too late to go to the park. Maybe tomorrow.

The street outside my new flat is so loud that I can't sleep
. Now I'm too tired to write my essay.
B: That's such a shame. You were so excited about moving in!
A: I know. At least my flatmates are wonderful. If I didn't have Such good flatmates, I would have moved out already.

Grammar – too/ enough; So/such 2

Complete the sentence with too, too many, too much, enough, so or such.
Tonya used to live in the city, but there was too much traffic, and there wasn't enough nature. Now she lives outside the city, and her quality of life is much better.

I usually enjoy the beach, but last time I went, there were too many mosquitos. It was so annoying that I left after an hour.

Bangkok is such an interesting city! I don't think so I could live there, though. It's too big for me.

This park is so beautiful! It's such a shame that it's so close to the factory.
B: I know. I love coming here, but I don't come very often because the air pollution is so bad.
Sadly, there just isn't enough fresh air here to breathe easily.

The last bus was an hour ago. It's too late to take (late / take) the bus home.
B: That's OK. I live near enough to walk (near / walk) home.
A: Or I could drive you. I'm taking Jack and Dean home. There's enough room (room) for you in the car.
B: That would be great. You're such a good (good) friend.

What's wrong? Why do you look so frustrated?
B: Oh, it's silly. I'm just annoyed because there isn't enough (not be) parking near the office. I've got to drive round looking for a parking space every day, and traffic congestion is terrible around here.
A: Maybe you should walk.
B: No, I can't. It's so far to walk
(far / walk) from my house, and there aren't enough
(not be) safe places to walk. There aren't even any pavements near my house!

We decided to move here because the local residents are so friendly that we decided to move here.

My feet hurt because I walked a lot.
I walked so much that my feet hurt.

Istanbul and Mardin are very interesting cities.
Istanbul and Mardin are such interesting cities.

It was a nice day, so Vera decided to walk to work.
It was such a nice day that Vera decided to walk to work.

Lesson B - Vocabulary Films and TV

Complete the paragraph.

Josie couldn't watch the football match because it wasn't broadcast in her city. However, most of the game was captured on camera, so she was able to watch it on the Internet later. She enjoyed watching it, even though she didn't get to see all of the game because some of it had been cut.

Complete the paragraph.
My favourite programme is a comedy where actors perform short plays called sketches. There's a presenter who talks to the audience at the beginning and end of the programme. The programme is on once a week – there's a new episode every Saturday. A lot of people enjoy watching it – the programme has so many viewers that it's been on for decades!

Complete the paragraph.

Editors do most of their work after a film or programme has been filmed. They put all the shots together to create the final version of the film that will be captured.

Complete the paragraph.

For most television programmes, the actors have to remember their lines from a script. However, there are some series where the cast improvise, or make up what they say.

Complete the paragraph.

Actors aren't the only important people involved in filming. They wouldn't know what to do without directors telling them, and the film wouldn't get made at all without the staff hired by the producers. And no one would be able to hear or see the actors well without the technical crew. After the film has been put together, music for the soundtrack is added.

Complete the paragraph.

When Rory asked Katie to marry him, he made sure the moment was captured on video and in a photo. He posted a shot on social media. At their engagement party, he showed the video. He had used music from Katie's favourite film as the soundtrack. It was very sweet!

Complete the paragraph.

I really enjoy watching programmes from Japan, but I can't watch them when they're broadcast – it's the middle of the night here! I can usually watch every episode of the programmes online. A lot of the programmes' viewers are from other countries, so many series are posted online.

Complete the paragraph.

Last night, the presenter of my favourite TV series announced that he's leaving the show. He's made several popular films, so he wants to focus on acting. His next film is actually going to be released this autumn!

Complete the paragraph.

The film's budget was very small. In order to save money, the producer made sure that the director didn't hire a famous cast. They also hired film students to do sound and lighting, instead of hiring a professional crew.

Complete the paragraph.

There are some famous comedies where, instead of using a script, the actors make up their lines. The director tells them what they should talk about, and they film the same scene several times. Then the editor only includes the funniest scenes in the film – everything else is cut.

Vocabulary- Houses

Look at the picture and complete the sentence.

Delia loves living in a cottagebasement. She loves how quiet it is, and she enjoys sitting by the fi reside in the evening – there are two chimneys, so she can have a fire in the living room or the kit chen, but she doesn't have a fire in the bedroom upstairs.

Complete the paragraph.

Nora and Jesse both live in the city, but their homes are very different. Nora lives in a terraced house with neighbours on both sides, but Jesse's got a big detached house with a beautiful garden all round it.

Complete the paragraph.

This old cottage was built in 1720. There is a small bedroom upstairs in the attic. It also has a chimney because many years ago, people used to keep warm by sitting next to the fire.

Complete the conversation.

A: Have you found a new house yet?
B: Yes, I've found this really nice Semi-detached house, and I've met the people who live in the other side – they seem very friendly.
A: That's great! Has it got a garden?
B: Yes, but it's not very big – there's a fence to separate it from the neighbours' garden.

Complete the conversation.

A: Is that where your grandparents live?
B: Yes! They moved into their bunglow last year because they couldn't manage the stairs in their old house any more.
A: I wouldn't like to live in a house like that, I'd miss having an upstairs!
B: I know what you mean, but they have got an attic. It's pretty small, but they can store things like suitcases up there.

Complete the conversation.

We love spending the weekend at our cottage in the countryside. It's such a contrast to our semi-detached house in the city!

Complete the paragraph.

My dad loves wine – he's got over 100 bottles downstairs in the cellar
! It's lucky that he lives in a detached house, because he wouldn't have anywhere to keep his wine if he lived in a flat!

Complete the paragraph.
My aunt and uncle live in a terraced house in the centre of town, so it's not very big. But they've got a huge basement downstairs – last year, they cleared it out, and now there's a table-tennis table and a home cinema there! It's great!

Complete the conversation.
A: When I was a child, we used to live in a bunglow
, so I loved going to houses that had stairs.
B: Really? I can't imagine stairs being so fascinating!
A: I know, but when you haven't got them, they are! My favourite place was the attic in my grandparents' house. You had to climb lots of stairs to reach it!

Complete the conversation.
A: Wow! I grew up in this terrace, and it's hardly changed at all.
B: Was it difficult, living so close to lots of people?
A: No, I loved it. My friends and I used to run through the passage and climb the to get into other people's back gardens! We used fence to get into a lot of trouble!

Grammar: Causative have / get 1

1. Put the words in the correct order.

I'm getting my nails done today.
He had his phone stolen by someone on the bus.

2. Choose the sentence that means the same as the first one.

Rose finished her essay.
Rose got her essay finished.

Choose the sentence that means the same as the first one.
Someone took Luke's ID card.
Luke had his ID card taken.

Choose the sentences that mean the same as the first one.
Diana is going to pay someone to fix her sink.
1Diana is going to have her sink fixed.
2 Diana is going to get her sink fixed.

Complete the sentences. There may be more than one correct answer.
The zip on Rita's handbag broke, so she got/had it repaired at a local shop. The worker got it fixed quickly.

Complete the sentences. There may be more than one correct answer.
Bruno had his bike stolen last week. His mum gave him her old one, but there was something wrong with the tyres, so he got/had them fixed. The person at the repair shop took a while, but he finally got it done.

Complete the sentence.
I hate paying to get my hair done, so I do it myself.

Complete the sentences.
I had my wallet stolen on the bus last week, and this week I had my phone taken on the underground. I can't believe I'm so unlucky!

My mother had her portrait drawn in the park many years ago. The artist worked very quickly – he got it finished in about 15 minutes. Unfortunately, while my mum was sitting for the portrait, she had her handbag taken.

Grammar: Causative have / get 2

Complete the sentence. Use causative have / get and the words in brackets.
My car's a mess! I need to have it cleaned / get it cleaned (it / clean).

Complete the sentence. Use causative have / get and the words in brackets.
Last year, Joelle had her heart broken (her heart / break). However, she recently met someone new and is very happy.

Complete the sentence. Use causative have / get and the words in brackets.
Zoe loves to sew. To raise money for her school, she made bags and sold them online.
And she was so fast! She got ten bags sewn (ten bags / sew) in one day!

Complete the sentences. Use a reflexive pronoun or causative have / get and the words in brackets.
My mum gets her house cleaned / has her house cleaned
(her house / clean) once a week. She used to clean it herself, but she's too old now.

Complete the sentence. Use causative have / get and the words in brackets.
Yesterday Beatrice had her laptop stolen (her laptop / steal) on the train, so she wasn't able to get her work done (her work / do).

Complete the sentence. Use a reflexive pronoun or causative have / get and the words in brackets.

I normally do my makeup myself, but I'm getting it done / having it done (it / done) for my wedding.

Complete the second sentence so that it has the same meaning as the first. Use causative have / get and the correct form of the words in bold.

Leo is going to pay someone to paint his house.
Leo is going to have his house painted / get his house painted.

Complete the second sentence so that it has the same meaning as the first. Use causative have / get and the correct form of the words in bold.

Someone stole my bank card last week.
I had my bank card stolen last week.

Complete the second sentence so that it has the same meaning as the first. Use causative have / get and the correct form of the words in bold.

Pedro has to clean his room before his parents get home.
Pedro has to get his room cleaned before his parents get home.

Complete the second sentence so that it has the same meaning as the first. Use a reflexive pronoun or causative have / get and the correct form of the words in bold.
Lucas didn't want to pay someone to wash his car, so he did it.
Lucas didn't want to pay to have his car washed / get his car washed so he did it himself.

Lesson C -
Listening: House Hunting 1

1. What's the main reason Aiden is looking for a house?

He'd like an attic.
He must find one for his job.
He wants to live in the town centre.
His budget is stretched.

2. What is Aiden going to do in the house?

help make a film
tidy up the attic paint the walls a lighter colour change how it looks

3. Why can't Aiden rent a house and a cottage?

It would be too expensive.
The producer would get upset.
Driving between them would take too much time.
It would make the actors unhappy.

4. Why doesn't Aiden rent the first house?
   There's too much traffic nearby.

There isn't an attic.
It isn't old enough.
There's only a ladder to the attic.

Listen to the conversation and choose the true sentences.
Tom thinks the cast will be pleased with the house.
The living room needs a lot of work.

The attic walls are clean.
The attic already looks frightening.

Listen to the conversation and choose the true sentences.
Tom and Aiden will have to get something repainted.
Tom and Aiden need to find some old toys and furniture.
Tom and Aiden have everything they need.
Aiden is going to deliver something.

Listen to the conversation and choose the correct answers.
ay
Which of these sentences are true about Aiden?
He's respected at his job.
He's thoughtful.
He's loyal.
He makes an effort to do well.

Listening: House Hunting 2
Speaking: Imagining how things could be; Using vague language 1
Read and listen to the conversation.

Which phrases are vague?
We could put the plants by the window.
This could be a sort of dining area.
I could imagine the bed over there.
We could put a rug or something over there.

Complete the conversation.
This would be a great study area! We could put our books over there in the corner.
B: And this could be a kind of recording area for my music. This place is great!

Complete the conversation.

A: I really like this kitchen. It's got a place for everything! My pots and pans and things like that could go over here.
B: And we could put a small table or something like that over there, so we don't need a dining room.

Complete the conversation.

A: Wow! This living room is huge! I can imagine a big sofa right here in the corner.
B: And this would make a great play area for the children. I could eat dinner and keep an eye on them.

Complete the conversation.

A: This bedroom is too small for anything but a bed.
B: Yes, but it could be a great home office.
A: Yeah, maybe. We could put all our files, project folders and so on in here.
B: And we could put two desks in here – one for each of us!

Complete the second set of sentences so they have the same meaning as the first. Use vague language and the language for imagining how things could be.

This small room will be a design studio. I can put my fabric, thread, design books and sewing supplies in here.
This small room would be/could be a design studio. I could put my fabric and things like that in here.

Complete the second set of sentences so they have the same meaning as the first. Use vague language and the language for imagining how things could be.

We could put our coats, hats, gloves and shoes here, and I think a washing machine would be good here.
We could put our coats and things like that here, and I can imagine a washing machine here.

Complete the second set of sentences so they have the same meaning as the first. Use vague language and the language for imagining how things could be.

This room is great for band practice. My drum kit can go over here. And over there is a good place for a sofa, chairs or a bench, so our friends could watch us practise.
This would / could make a great room for band practice. I could put my drum kit over here. And we could put a sofa or something / something like that over there for our friends to watch us while we practise.

Complete the second conversation so it is vaguer than the first.
A: This space would be perfect for a separate area where we could work on sewing and art projects.
B: Yes! We could keep our paint, paint brushes, paper, scissors and pencils over here.

A: This could be a kind / sort of arts and crafts area.
B: Yes! We could keep our paint and things / so on / things like that over here.

Complete the second conversation so it is vaguer than the first.
A: I can imagine this as a place to store our sports equipment.
B: Yes, but we'd need to get some cabinets or shelves for everything.

A: I can imagine this as a kind / sort of storage area for our sports equipment.
B: Yes, but we'd need to get some cabinets or something / things like that for everything.

Note: You need to do recording by your own.

Lesson D Reading: Email: Complaining about an important issue

Read the emails and choose the correct answer.

1. What's the complaint mainly about?
    - A change in the plans.
2. What are Trevor's complaints?

- The company won't give important information.
- The residents aren't sure if they'll get a place they need for their children's education.
- No one asked local people for their thoughts.

3. The people in the town don't know where the new school will be
4. What steps has Trevor already taken?
    - He's tried to find out where the school will be.
    - He's called a politician.
5. What requests does Trevor make?

- Stop the office from being built in the town.
- Make the company tell us about employment opportunities.
- Don't work on the office before deciding where the school will go.
- Make sure that people who live there can give feedback on the plan.

6. What are Trevor's next steps?
    - contact reporters
    - tell people to call their local politicians
7. What is Trevor passionate about?
    - local children's education
    - creating jobs for people in his community
    - involving residents in community decisions

Writing: using formal language

Read the sentences. Are they formal or informal? Choose the correct labels

1.I'm just getting in touch about doing volunteer work with you this weekend.

Informal

2. I am writing regarding last month's telephone bill because I was overcharged.

Formal

3. I can't wait to hear from you!

Informal

4. I look forward to a prompt reply.

Formal

1. Everyone's worried about the new factory.
   informal
2. Get back to me in a couple of days.
   informal
3. There is a great deal of concern about the school lunches.
   formal
4. If I do not hear from you within two days, I will contact the mayor's office.
   formal
5. I want you to give me back the extra money you charged me.
   Informal

1. I think what you're doing is illegal. (Informal)
2. I would like to formally request that you credit my account for the money you overcharged me. (Formal)
3. We think you should fix the traffic lights straight away – they're really dangerous! (Informal)
4. I believe that what you are doing is against the law, as well as a danger to the community. (Formal)
5. We understand that you are busy, but the pavement needs to be repaired immediately. (Formal)

Read a formal email of complaint. Put the paragraphs in the correct order.

1Paragraph D
2 Paragraph A
3 Paragraph C
4 Paragraph E
5 Paragraph B

Read an email of complaint. Choose a paragraph for each description.
The request for action
Paragraph E
The background on the complaint
Paragraph A
What actions the writer has already taken
Paragraph C
What the writer will do next if no action is taken
Paragraph B
The purpose of the email
Paragraph D

Complete the portion of the email of complaint with the most formal language.
To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing regarding the city's plan to close the Murrayfield Playground. There is a great deal of concern about the effect this will have on our local community. We understand that the city's budget is stretched, but residents need to be able to give feedback on this plan. I believe that what you are doing will harm community members' quality of life.
Complete the portion of the email of complaint with the most formal language.

I would like to formally request that a community meeting be held to address this issue, and that all plans are stopped until the community can give their input.
If I do not hear from you within two days, I am going to reach out to the media, so people can be informed of this issue. I look forward to a prompt reply.

Yours faithfully,
Sam Lee

Complete the second version of the email of complaint so it's more formal than the first.

I'm writing about the plan to build a new road next to the school. Everyone's worried about how the air pollution and noise will affect the students. We think you should have involved local residents in this decision.

I am writing regarding the plan to build a new road next to the school. There is a great deal of concern about the effects of the air pollution and noise on the students. Local residents should have been involved in this decision.

Complete the second version of the email of complaint so it's more formal than the first.

I think it's illegal to not involve the community at all in this decision – our kids are the ones in that school all day! I would like to ask you to hold public meetings before the project goes any further. Get back to me in a

Note: Students need to write it by their own

Academic Skills - Unit -07

Lesson 1, Lead-in

Read the sentences and choose the correct meaning for the words in bold.

1. hold … views

-to have opinions

2. adopts a ... stance

- to take a position

3. shift in position
- a change in someone's point of view

4. raise ... objections
- to express disagreement or opposition

5. gives ... objective account
- to provide a description which is based on facts, not personal belief or opinion

6. balanced view
- an opinion which looks at and evaluates both sides of an issue

7. As far as I'm concerned
- used to express a personal opinion

8. perspective
- a particular way of considering an issue

Reading 1: Identifying opinion

Correct Answers:

1. Yes
2. No
3. Not given
4. No
5. Yes
6. Not given

Listening 1: Identifying opinion

Correct Answers:

1. Lisa Perk
2. Cindy Holland
3. the presenter
4. Netflix
5. Sonja Lyubomirski

Reading 2: Identifying stance

Correct Answers:

1. For
2. positives
3. my position
4. Supporting evidence
5. eyesight
6. Supporting evidence
7. consuming more food

Reading 3: Inferring meaning

Correct Answers:

1. Section E
2. Section C
3. Section B
4. Section A
5. Section D

Listening 2: Identifying opinion

Correct Answers:

1. Man
2. Woman
3. Woman
4. Both
5. Man
6. Man

Language focus: Commenting on opinions

1. stance
2. exactly

1. I'm concerned
2. up to

1. I feel
2. about

4.) Correct Answers:

1. View
2. Saying

5.) Correct Answers:

1. raising
2. Mentioned

6.) Correct Answers:

1. perspective
2. agree

Extension Activity: Unit- 07
Lesson-01, Reading Extension

1.) Correct answers:

1. Steve
2. Matt
3. Martin
4. Sarah

2.) Correct answers:

1. Most of them had failed to complete at least one DIY task.
2. Because he could have hurt himself more seriously than he actually did.
3. She had to pay for two separate things as a result of Steve's accident.
4. Hitting part of her body against something.
5. She eventually finished the DIY task.
6. He probably wouldn't have made the same mistake during the daytime.

Unit 7 Writing Extension

// Depends on students skill, evaluation by teacher

Listening Extension

1.) Correct answers:

1. In the city Centre
2. Outside the city Centre
3. Generally

2.) Correct Answers:

1. True
2. True
3. False
4. True
5. False
6. False
7. False
8. True

Unit 7 Speaking Extension

Students will have to record answers by themselves

Unit Progress Test: Unit – 07, Part_1

Question 1

Ans: suggesting some ideas for the party

Question 2
Ans: not enough

Question 3
Ans: persuading

Question 4
Ans: warning the woman about a restaurant

Question 5
Ans: describing plans for the future

Question 6
Ans: disappointed by the acting

Question 7
Ans: trying not to hurt the man's feelings

Question 8
Ans: persuading the man to agree with something

Part_2

Question 9
Ans: transport

Question 10
Ans: traffic

Question 11
Ans: Quality

Question 12
Ans: terraced

Question 13
Ans: basement

Question 14
Ans: fence

Question 15
Ans: passage

Question 16
Ans: Cottage

Part_3

Please note that there may be more than one possible answer for each question.

Question 17
Ans: Urban development

Question 18
Ans: residents

Question 19
Ans: Air pollution

Question 20
Ans: Parking spaces

Question 21
Ans: terrace

Question 22
Ans: Chimney

Question 23
Ans: attic

Question 24
Ans: bungalow

Part-4

Question 25
Ans: enough space

Question 26
Ans: so

Question 27
Ans: got one built

Question 28
Ans: turned

Question 29
Ans: have another added

Question 30
Ans: big enough

Question 31
Ans: done

Question 32
Ans: too many

Part-5

Please note that there may be more than one possible answer for each question.
Question 33
Ans: too much

Question 34
Ans: too little

Question 35
Ans: not enough

Question 36
Ans: such a long

Question 37
Ans: his car window broken

Question 38
Ans: get the stadium finished

Question 39
Ans: had my bag stolen

Question 40
Ans: am having my apartment painted

Unit-8 Dilemma

Vocabulary: Money and Finance – 1

1. donations
2. debt
3. a saving
4. income, budget
5. interest rate, investment
6. donations
7. saving
8. interest rates
9. income, debt
10. budget, investment

Vocabulary: Money and Finance – 2

1. make a living
2. debit
3. donate to charities
4. putting aside savings, paying off debt
5. finance the project, award him a grant
6. make a living
7. debits, account
8. put aside, savings
9. finance the project, pay off
10. awarded, grant, donate, charity

Grammar: First and Second Conditionals – 1

1. If William pays off his debt, he'll be able to buy no guitar
2. If Holly had more money, she'd donate more to charity
3. If the university awards Zara a grant, she's going to start a research project
4. If you need help, let me know. If I see Marcia tomorrow, I'll give her back her sweater
5. If I had a garden, I'd plant lots of flowers. If I were you, I'd invest more of my money.
6. is able, will manage
7. are saving, are doing, 'd
8. leave, 'll get, don't leave, should still be
9. 'd move, left, wouldn't
10. 've washed, came, wasn't, 'd eat

Grammar: First and Second Conditionals – 2

1. had, would buy
2. did, would start
3. crash, 'll be, won't let
4. were, would draw up, would have, spent
5. 'd love to come, wasn't so tired
6. get, 'll keep, don't, won't have
7. you don't remind, might not remember

8. need, call, isn’t able, I’ll let
9. wants, should start, wants, I’ll have to get, cared, wouldn’t work
10. ’re going, take, ’s, may have, were, ’d find

Vocabulary: Crime - 1

1. arrested, theft, lying
2. broke into, burglary
3. trial, accused, murder, cheat, kidnapping
4. suspect, witnesses, evidence, court
5. jury, verdict, guilty, bribery, judge
6. judge, sentence, murder
7. trial, accused, breaking into, suspect
8. witnesses, evidence, lying, kidnapping
9. arrested, burglary, court, robbery, bribery
10. cheat, jury, verdict, guilty, theft

Vocabulary: Crime - 2

1. shoplifter, liar, lying, shoplifting
2. cheating, cheat
3. murderer, murdering,
4. kidnapper, kidnap, steal, bribe
5. thief, rob, robber, burglar, burgle
6. burglar, burgle, thief
7. murdering, rob, murderer
8. steal, shoplifter, shoplifting
9. kidnapped, kidnapper, robber
10. cheating, cheat, liar, bribed

Grammar: Third conditional; should have + past participle 1

1. If Don hadn’t told me the car was second hand, I wouldn’t have known
2. If Linda had studied, she would have done better in the test.
3. We’re so late! If we had walked, we would have been sooner
4. shouldn't have left
5. should’ve been, hadn’t been, would’ve been
6. had filled, wouldn’t have had, should have filled
7. hadn’t got, would be
8. wouldn’t have asked, hadn’t told, should have asked
9. hadn’t had, would have dropped, hadn’t had, wouldn’t have got
10. hadn’t seen, wouldn’t have known, ’d be, should have messaged

Grammar: Third conditional; should have + past participle 2

1. had, would,
2. would, had
3. hadn’t gone, wouldn’t have met
4. had entered, would have won
5. had started, would be
6. didn’t have, would have left

7. hadn’t been, wouldn’t have missed
8. should’ve listened, had been, wouldn’t have broken
9. had finished, would make, should have studied
10. couldn’t have bought, hadn’t saved, should have started, had started, wouldn’t have

Listening: Job hunting 1

1. helping a friend describe his qualifications and experience
2. He hasn’t heard back from any of the jobs he’s applied for
3. His CV could be better
4. His work experience is in the wrong order.
   His CV doesn't include information on how he's been successful.
5. He accused a significant boost in the number of volunteers
   He got people to donate the most money
6. check for mistakes, is thinks

Speaking: Being encouraging; Showing you have things in common 1

1. sure, fine, similar
2. the same with, just like
3. hope, thing, work out, never
4. 2, 1, 3, 4
5. give, hope
6. sure, fine
7. feeling, just, similar
8. just like, same, happened
9. same with, might, fine
10. never, just like, when

Reading: Review: The City & the City

1. a book
2. rarely, better
3. She doesn’t think they’re very interesting. She thinks the characters are too alike
4. solves crimes, who killed someone, an imaginary
5. They are located exactly in the same place.
   It’s illegal for the residents from the different cities to notice each other
6. It explore new ideas about cities
   The story of one of the character’s lives is very interesting
7. a book about people exploring a new world

Writing: Organising a review

1. one of the, The other, enjoyed
2. number one, must
3. pulled me into, put, down, highly
4. C, A, D, B
5. B, D, A, C
6. number one, must
7. One of the things, enjoy, The other thing
8. pulled me into, put it down, highly

Writing: A review
Write a review of a book, film or TV programme that you loved as a child. Write the review as if you had recently read the book or watched the film or TV programme for the first time.

Here are some ideas:

- Introduce the book, film or TV programme and give information about it.
- Outline the plot and introduce the main characters.
- Outline its key strengths and your opinion.
- Give a summary of the review and a final positive recommendation.

I am glad to introduce my favourite latest movie. It is The Beautiful Game has an undeniable warmth that further elevates an already irresistible true story, helping this inspirational drama score despite a reliance on well-worn clichés.

Mal (Bill Nighy, Living, About Time) is the manager of England's homeless football team, taking his players to Rome with the hope of being crowned champions of the Homeless World Cup, a global street soccer tournament. At the last minute he decides to bring with them a talented striker Vinny (Micheal Ward, Empire of Light, The Book of Clarence), who could give them a real chance at winning, but only if he's ready to let go of his past and become part of the team. Made with the support of the Homeless World Cup, The Beautiful Game is a film of second chances where homeless teams from around the world find that all roads lead to Rome, and everything's to play for.

Reading Extension

1. Money Garden,
2. Check My Money
3. Money Worker
4. Money Worker
5. Money Garden
6. Check My Money

2. False, True, True, True, True, False, True, False

Writing Extension
Write a paragraph about how you manage your money.

Write about:

- how good or bad you are at managing money
- whether you put aside savings regularly or spend your money as you get it
- how often you make a budget (e.g., every week, month, year or never)
- who you ask / would ask for advice about managing money.

Managing money effectively involves a combination of budgeting, saving, investing, and being mindful of your financial goals. Here are some steps you can take to manage your money better: I will start by listing your income and expenses. Allocate your income towards necessities like rent/mortgage, utilities, groceries, transportation, and debt payments. Then, allocate some to savings and discretionary spending. I shall keep a record of your expenses to see where your money is going. There are various apps and tools available to help you with this, or you can simply use a spreadsheet. I aim to save at least three to six months' worth of living expenses in an emergency fund. This fund will provide a safety net in case of unexpected expenses or a loss of income. Before making a purchase, especially a significant one, ask myself if it aligns with my financial goals and if I really need it. Periodically review my budget, expenses, and financial goals. I will make adjustments as needed to stay on track.

Listening Extension

1. a robbery in a shop, shoplifting, burglaries, a successful arrest
2. You may earn money if the information is useful
   They were both probably involved in the robbery
   The thief attacked a young woman
   Some of the burglaries were partly the residents' fault Listeners have helped the police to identify them

Speaking Extension

Record yourself talking about crime where you live. Answer the questions.

- What kinds of crimes are most common where you live?
- How do the police ask the public for help?
- Do you think TV or radio programmes like the one you listened to are useful? Why / Why not?

Where I live, the most common crimes tend to be related to theft, vandalism, and occasionally, petty assaults. The police usually ask for public assistance through various means such as social media posts, community meetings, press releases, and sometimes even through direct door-to-door inquiries in affected neighbourhoods. They may also utilize platforms like TV and radio programs to broadcast information about ongoing investigations, suspects, or to ask for tips from the public.

I do think that TV or radio programs can be useful in raising awareness and soliciting help from the community. They have the potential to reach a wide audience, including people who might not be active on social media or other online platforms where such requests for help are commonly posted. Additionally, these programs can provide detailed information about crimes, suspects, and safety tips, which can empower citizens to take proactive measures to protect themselves and their communities. However, their effectiveness may vary depending on the audience's engagement and the relevance of the information being conveyed.

Academic Skills: Lead In

1. money laundering identify theft
   white-collar crime tax evasion forgery false accounting hacking embezzlement

Listening: 1 Recognising signposting language will be divided will focus on go on to Finally will deal with let's continue by mentioned earlier a brief summary

now turn to

Listening: 2 Listening for key points

4, 1, 6, 2, 3, 7, 5

Reading 1: Identifying main points

1. the expansion of the web
2. deceiving people into giving away personal financial details
3. a range of different criminals
4. do it to suit their own aims
5. often start with small sums
6. was very well planned
7. is equal to the GDP of a large country

Reading 2: Reading for detail

1. crossing the Atlantic
2. were not very rich
3. the printed bills were genuine
4. after people had paid him
5. couldn't afford to repair the Eiffel Tower
6. was shamed

Reading 3: Understanding main ideas

False, True, True, False, True, True, False, False

Listening 3: Summarising ideas

Scotland, shares, gold, government, wealth, matches, banks, expensive, investors

Unit-9 Digital Workbook

Highlighted word is the answer

Vocabulary: Health 1

1. A: Are you OK?
   B: Not really. My back hurts. I was lifting some heavy boxes yesterday and I strained it.
2. A: I heard you hurt your ankle.

B: I did. It was really painful. The doctor gave me some medicine to treat the pain. It still aches a bit, but it doesn't hurt as much as it did.

3. A: What happened to your forehead? It's all black and blue.B: I got this bruise when I bumpe d my head on the car door. I just wasn't paying attention.
4. A: Could you pass me a tissue, please? I think I'm going to sneeze

   B: Here you go. Are you allergic to something? A: Ahhh-choo! No, the doctor thinks it's an infection.

5. A: I heard you coughing Are you ill?
   B: A bit. I felt fine yesterday, but now I think I'm coming down with a cold.
6. She fell off her bike and it landed on her leg. She didn't cut herself, but she does have a bruise.
7. Yesterday, Tony strained his neck. He sat at his computer in one position too long, and it started hurting. He really needs to move more throughout the day.
8. A: I've got a sore throat and a cough. I've been drinking lots of tea and sleeping a lot, but I don't feel any better.
   B: You might have a serious infection. You should go to the doctor, so you can get some medicine to treat it.
9. A: What happened to your knee?
   B: Oh, I bumped it on the table when I was getting up. It hurt a lot. Actually, it still aches a bit.
10. A: Can you please cover your mouth when you cough? B: Yes. I'm sorry. A: You should go to bed and get some rest. I think you're starting to come down with something!
    B: I'm not ill; I've just visited my sister. She got a new cat, and it makes me sneeze. That's why I'm carrying this box of tissues!

Vocabulary: Health 2

1. It's important to eat a healthy diet. If you eat too much fat and sugar, you could develop serious health.

2. A: I feel like the room is spinning. I think I might lose consciousness
   B: If you're feeling dizzy you should sit down. You don't want to fall.

3. Nurse: After you fell, did you stay awake? Or did you lose consciousness?
   Patient: I stayed awake.
   Nurse: Are you cold? I see you're shivering now.
   Patient: Yes, I'm freezing! It's really cold in here.

4. A: Dean looks a lot healthier than he was. It looks like he's finally starting to get over the flu.
   B: Do you think so? The last time I saw him, he still looked ill. His skin was really pale and he could hardly speak.

5. A: How did you get that scar on your arm? You must have had a huge cut!
   B: Once, when I was a child, I was playing outside all day. It was really hot, but I didn't drink any water. When I got home, I felt dizzy. I felt very sleepy, and in the end I fainted and fell into a glass table. I had to go to the hospital because I'd cut myself so badly.

6. Wayne's got the flu. He's got a high temperature, but he feels cold. In fact, he can't stop shivering.

7. It's important to go to the doctor when you're ill – if something like the flu isn't treated, you can develop a more serious illness. Plus, you may feel better sooner because the doctor can give you medicine to help you get over your illness more quickly.

8. I need to eat frequently, or I feel ill. If I don't eat often enough, my face gets really pale. If I still don't eat, then I lose consciousness. I usually wake up after a minute or two, but it's still something I prefer to avoid.

9. Dizzy, faint

10. When Stephen was little, he fell off his bike and landed on his head. He had a bad cut and he lost consciousness. He quickly woke up, but his parents were still worried. They took him to the hospital, where the doctors checked him and treated his cut. He still has a big-scar- from the cut on the top of his head, but otherwise he's fine.

Grammar: Relative clauses 1

Answers are highlighted in bold font

1. The woman who lives downstairs is a scientist. The lab where she works is in the town centre.
2. The car that Daryl just bought is red. This soup, which I made with my mother's recipe, is my dad's favorite.
3. Person: who, that Place:where Thing: that, which Possession-whose Time: when
4. The school that I go to is pretty small. I know everyone who goes there.
5. Does anyone know the name of the man who just left? I've found a wallet, and I'm not sur e whose it is. It may be his.
6. A: Do you know where I can get a coffee around here?
   B: There's a great place down the road, but they're probably busy they're always full in the mornings, when everyone is going to work.
7. A: The school where I went as a child is just over there.
   B: Hey! I think my best friend went there. It's the same school that I've seen in his old photos.

8. A: Excuse me; I'm looking for someone who can help me choose a new phone. B: I can help. What are the features you're looking for? A: Well, it needs to have a good camera. The artist I work for, who I really want to impress wants me to start taking pictures of his work to post on social media, so I need something that can take really good pictures.
9. A: Where is the restaurant that you were talking about?
   B: It's just around the corner, but it gets really busy on days when people don't have to work. It's the weekend, so it'll probably be very crowded at the moment.
   A: OK. Is there another place that you'd like to eat at?

10. Our trip to Prague which is one of the most beautiful cities I've ever seen, was absolutely wonderful. The place where we stayed was right in the centre of town, and the woman whose house it was took very good care of us. Her son, who worked at a local tour company, gave us a free tour of the Old Town!

Grammar: Relative clauses 2

Complete the sentence with the correct relative pronoun. If no word is needed, put X. There may be more than one correct answer.

1. The time when I got the flu wasn't fun, but I got over it eventually.
2. I had a fever and I was shivering, which are both common symptoms of the flu. Still, I decided to go to the hospital because I was feeling really bad.
3. The hospital that I went to was great. The doctor who treated me was very kind.
4. The nurse, whose sister goes to the same college as me, was very helpful. I highly recommend the hospital that/which I went to. It's the kind of place where patients are treated effectively and with a lot of care.
5. You live in Ashville. My dad grew up there. Your house is next door to his old house. You live in the town-where-- my dad-grew up---.The house-that/which--you live in is next door to his old house.
6. There's a new concert venue in town. A lot of popular bands play there. My sister's dream is to be a famous guitarist. She spends a lot of time there. There's a new concert venue in town-that/which--a lot of popular bands play at. My sister, -whose---dream is to be a famous guitarist, spends a lot of time there.
7. I work for that company. I like it. Someone I know got me the job. I've known him since we were kids. I like the company--that I work for / which I work for / I work for / where I work.I've known the person who/that got me the job since we were kids.
8. Liam offered to help me write the essay. He is a very good writer. I'm glad he agreed to help me. He wants to meet at a library, but it's very far away. Liam,-who is a very good writer, offered to help me write the essay. I'm glad he agreed to help me, but the library where he wants to meet is very far away.
9. Aisha got her nursing degree at that university. It's well known for its medical course. Her mum went there, too. The university-where--Aisha got her nursing degree--is----well known for its medical course. It's the same university-that/which--- her mum-went--to.
10. Quincy,-whose--- cough was terrible yesterday, seems to be getting better. He'll probably get ill again soon, though – he gets ill really easily,----which---. is very unfortunate. The doctor,-who/whom---- he sees all the time, is now one of his best friends. On the days—when/that---- he sees that doctor, he's usually in a better mood, even if he still doesn't feel well.

Vocabulary: Verbs describing thought and knowledge 1

1. While I was making an important presentation at work, I noticed that people were looking at me strangely. After the meeting, I checked my clothes, and I saw that I had a stain on my shirt. I –had no idea------it was there! It was very embarrassing.
2. I used to think Randall was rude, but I eventually----came- to the conclusion that he's just straightforward, and he doesn't like small talk. However, he really is a good friend.
3. A: Where is Annie? She's over an hour late! B: I don't know for sure, but I -assume---- she's got a good reason – she's never late, so something must have happened.
4. A: What should we get Javier for his birthday?
   B: Well, he was just complaining that he's got too much stuff in his flat, so I-suspect----he would probably prefer something small. Or maybe we could just take him out for dinner!

5. A: I think our new colleague seems rather arrogant. I was in the lift with her today and she wouldn't even say hi!
   B: I thought that, too, at first. But then we started working on a project together, and I --realized-- she's just really shy. Once you get to know her, she's very nice.
6. A: I used to think things would get easier once I'd been working here for a while, but I've come to the--conclusion----that it's always going to be difficult. B: I know the feeling. When I started working here, I--had--no idea that it would be so gruelling!
7. I---had no idea-------Miguel was such a talented artist, and that he sells his paintings for a lot of money. B: I know. When he told me he painted, I just--assumed----it was a hobby. But then when I went to one of his art exhibitions and saw people paying lots of money for his paintings, I---realized---that it was more than something he just did for fun.

Vocabulary: Verbs describing thought and knowledge 2

1. Recently, my mother got a scam call saying that a stolen car had been found with a lot of stolen money. The person said they were with the police, and that she was a suspect in the crime. She trusts everyone, so she---assumed----they were telling the truth. She got very scared.
2. The police would never just call someone like that, but my mother didn't know this – she –had no--idea-that getting a call like that from the police wasn't normal.
3. Next, the man on the phone told my mum that he wanted to help her, but he could only do it if she gave him her credit card number over the phone. At this point, she started to-suspect--it might be a scam.
4. She looked up 'credit card number scam' and found that it definitely was a scam! She came to the-conclusion-----that the person she was talking to was a criminal, not a police officer.
5. Soon, the person on the phone--realised----she had figured it out, and hung up immediately. She called the real police.
6. The police said they had received several calls from local residents about this scam. They had—come to---the conclusion that it might be someone in the neighborhood.
7. They finally found the suspect, who turned out to be a local teenager. His mother had actually called about the scam, because her son had bought a lot of new things, and she had--no----idea how he'd got the money.

Grammar: Reported speech; Reporting verbs 1

1. Ivan said he didn't know where he was.
2. Margot said she wasn't sure whether she'd got the job.
3. Renee: I'd like to buy your car.
   Daniel: I'm sorry, but I've already sold it. Renee said she wanted to buy Daniel's car, but he informed her that he had already sold it.
4. Miles: Can you help me move on Saturday?
   Antony: I'm not sure – I may have to work that day. Miles asked—if Antony could---help--him--move on Saturday, but Antony said that he –was not----sure; he—might have---to work that day.
5. Alonzo: Did you report the scam to the police?
   Beatrice: I tried to, but I couldn't get anyone to call me back from the police station. I think I might go down there tomorrow. 1 if she'd reported 2 'd tried 3 couldn't 4 her 5 might 6 the next day
6. Rachel says that she's been to Belize several times, but she wishes she could go more often. She regrets buying a new car. Now she realizes that it was a mistake.
7. Laura denied stealing Melissa's phone, and she promised to return it if she found it. However, Melissa thought she was lying – she believed that she had taken it, and ordered her to return it. However, Laura still said she didn't know where it was.

8. Correct answers:1 she'd love 2 us that she'd 3 having 4 me to say
9. Correct answers:1 that we would go 2 me that he 3 to call 4 that he'll do 5 him to do
10. Correct answers:1 he was 2 to be 3 him to be 4 being

Grammar: Reported speech; Reporting verbs 2

1. Lana: I'm very disappointed the trip was a hoax. I've already paid £200!
   Answer: 1 was 2 had been 3 She'd already paid
2. Celia: I've never been scuba diving, but I've been snorkelling before. Have you been snorkeling before? Correct answers:1 she's never been 2 she's been 3 if I'd been
3. Doctor: Drink more water and avoid stress. If your blood pressure is high, I may prescribe some new medication. Correct answers:1 me to drink 2 avoiding 3 my 4 was 5 she might prescribe
4. Teacher: Please read the answers to the test twice before you hand it in. Correct answers: 1 we read 2 we handed it in
5. Carlotta: I believe John is telling the truth.
   Diego: I'm not so sure. I'm afraid he lies pretty frequently. Answers: 1. that John was telling 2. That he lied
6. (Male) Theatre employee: You can use your phones in the downstairs bar.
   Us: Thank you. Where is it? We've never been here before. Correct answers:1 us (that) we could use 2 him where it was 3 him (that) we'd never been
7. Mum: Please clean up your mess.
   Us: We'll clean it up later. We promise!
   Mum: No, clean it up now. Correct answers: 1 us to clean up our 2 to clean / her (that) we'd clean 3 us to clean
8. Receptionist: Did you fill out the paperwork?
   Juan: No, but I will as soon as I find my insurance documents. Answer-1 whether he'd filled / if he'd filled 2 hadn't 3 he would 4 he found his
9. Samir: Where are the snacks?
   Katie: I forgot to pack them. I'm sorry I didn't bring them!
   Samir: It's OK. Really. Can we buy some here? Correct Answers:1 where the snacks were 2 forgetting / (that) she had forgotten 3 not bringing 4 (that) it was 5 if they could buy / whether they could buy
10. Ralph: What did you do when you found out that the email was a hoax?
    Leo: I called the police immediately. They wanted me to tell them everything I remembered, so I told them the whole story. Correct answers: 1 Leo what he did / Leo what he had done 2 he'd found out 3 had been 4 he'd called 5 'd wanted him 6 to tell

Listening: A misunderstanding 1

1. What do Annetta and Jonathan decide? Answer: to do something different than what Jonathan had planned
2. What does Annetta think the surprise will be? Answer-eating lunch by the sea
3. Why doesn't Annetta like the surprise? Correct answers:1 She doesn't enjoy being on boats. 2 She's afraid of whales.
4. Why did Jonathan think that Annetta would like to go whale watching? Correct answers: 1 She likes to look at images of whales. 2 She owns a lot of clothes with pictures of whales.
5. Why doesn't Annetta want to go on the boat? Correct answers:1 Boats make her feel like everything is spinning. 2 Boats make her feel sick. 3 She doesn't like being on the sea.
6. What do Jonathan and Annetta decide to do instead? Correct answers:1 get food from a restaurant 2 have a meal on the beach 3 see the whales in a different way
7. Correct answers:1 going scuba diving 2 laid-back and sympathetic

Speaking: Expressing uncertainty; Clarifying a misunderstanding 1

1. Complete the conversation. Correct answers:1 haven't 2 a clue 3 that is
2. A: My nephew's birthday is coming up. He wants something called Street Blox. Correct answers: 1 on earth 2 no idea
3. A: I can't wait to go to the Bahamas next month!
   B: Wait. Didn't we say that we'd go to Belgium?
   A: No, our tickets are for the Bahamas. Are you disappointed?
   B: No! Now I'm even more excited!
4. Correct answers:1 get this wrong 2 understood
5. Correct answers:2 1 5 3 4
6. A: Are you ready to go see kabuki theatre tonight? What on earth is that?
7. A: OK, our burgers are ready! Here, yours is the vegetable burger.
   B: Oh, I actually wanted a meat burger. Did they get the order wrong? Correct answers: 1 say that 2 thought that
8. A: Have you entered all the information into the Sales base system? B: I'm sorry. Correct answers:1 haven't got a clue 2 understood that
9. A: Do you mind if I borrow your spatula? I'm cooking burgers on the grill and need to turn them over.
   B: I'm sorry. I have absolutely Correct answers1 no idea what 2 misunderstood
10. A: Are you ready to go to the cricket match? Correct answers: 1 Didn't we say 2 get this wrong

Speaking: Expressing uncertainty; Clarifying a misunderstanding 2
Student Activity, Reading: Essay: The value of alternative medicine

Read the essay and choose the correct answer.

1. Which sentence best summarises the argument? Answer-Both conventional medicine and herbal medicine should be considered.
2. Correct answers:
   1 According to the author, people take conventional medicine too often.
   2 The author thinks herbal remedies must be useful, since they've been used for so long.
3. What reasons does the author give to support the use of herbal medicine? Correct answers: 1 Over time, people who take conventional medicine may have to take more for it to work. 2 Herbal medicine can be safer than conventional medicine.
4. What arguments does the author give against herbal medicine? Correct answers:
   1 The government doesn't have rules to make sure herbal medicines are safe.
   2 How well herbal medicine works depends on the abilities of the person who made it.
5. What's the main point of paragraph 4? Correct answer: The best way to safely use herbal medicines is with the guidance of someone who is qualified in medicine.
6. If the author was ill and needed medicine, what do you think he'd do first? Correct answer: ask a doctor for advice

Writing: Presenting a series of arguments

1. There are several good reasons for being vegan. First, by reducing our meat and dairy intake we could cut greenhouse gas emi ssions by up to 50%.
2. Correct answers:1 argue 2 argument 3 ignore 4 believe
3. People often argue that no one should be able to drive until they are 21; teenagers can get distr acted very easily. Furthermore, they may not have the life experience to make very good deci sions. However, despite these arguments, in many countries people can get their driving licenc e when they're still teenagers.
4. Correct answers:1 In addition 2 Consequently 3 Yet 4 In conclusion
5. Correct answers:1 Paragraph D 2 Paragraph C 3 Paragraph E 4 Paragraph A 5 Paragraph B
6. Correct answers:1 Paragraph D 2 Paragraph B 3 Paragraph C 4 Paragraph E 5 Paragraph A
7. Correct answers: 1 yet 2 Furthermore 3 Despite
8. Correct answers: 1 In addition 2 consequently 3 In conclusion
9. Correct answers:1 argue 2 argument 3 is that 4 not to ignore
10. Correct answers: 1 reasons 2 First 3 believe

Unit-9 Extension

Discoveries

Reading Extension

Read the article about Georges Méliès. Choose the correct number to order the events.

1. Correct Answers: 2, 5,1,4,7,3,6

Unit-9: Academic Extension

Lesson-1

Lead- in

1. Correct Answer: vaccination
2. Correct Answer: heart surgery
3. Medical imaging
4. Blood transfusion
5. A global Study

Listening 1: Listening for specific information

1. The original point of Keys' research was to find out why Ans: 1 heart disease occurred in men in their forties and fifties who appeared quite fit.

2. Keys' original study was intended to compare Ans- those who had heart disease and those who didn't.

3. The first study in the US gave Keys an opportunity Ans- to test the same men every year until they died.
4. The first people studied outside the US were in Italy.
5. The first finding of his research was Ans: a link between cholesterol and heart disease.
6. In the next phase of the research, Keys and White discovered Ans: heart attack rates were lower in Mediterranean countries.

Listening 2: Listening for paraphrase

Correct Answers:
1 remote areas
2 representative
3 diet
4 levels
5 long-term
6 breakthrough

Reading 1: Understanding paraphrase

Correct Answers:
1 comparable risk factors
2 quantifiable data
3 an observably reduced risk
4 a high level of physical activity
5 considerably higher
6 those of advanced age
7 initial findings

Reading 2: Reading for main ideas

Correct Answers:
1 in an emergency.
2 to prevent mistakes.
3 nobody told the pilot.
4 it lost power in both engines.
5 the pilot wouldn't make an error.
6 was in a senior position.
7 taking too long.

Reading 3: Paraphrasing

Correct Answers:
1 A number of mistakes being made around the same time increases the risk of a disaster.
2 Chapanis was asked to find out why planes often had accidents as they landed after a mission.
3 Fatigue can lead to mistakes, so a system is needed to reduce the risk of this happening.
4 Professionals in both fields are taught to keep a view of theoverall procedure and to communicate with team members of all levels.
5 Sometimes when there is a problem, people lose their sense of time and spend too much time on one thing and not enough on another.

Reading 4: Reading for detail

Correct Answers:
1 True
2 True
3 False
4 True
5 False
6 False

DIGITAL WORKBOOK

UNIT - 10
POSSIBILITIES

LESSON A

I.Vocabulary: Adjectives with prefixes 1

Complete the adjectives in the conversation with the correct negative prefixes.

A: I can't believe Daphne entered that singing competition. She's a te rrible singer. She can't win – it's impossible!
B: Well, anything's possible, but I agree it's very improbable.

A: Daphne won the singing competition –
I can't believe it. It's incredible!
B: Yes, it's pretty unbelievable. She told me that she had been taking voice lessons for months in order to work towards her dream of bein g a singer.
A: When did she find the time to do that?
B: I'm not sure, but her working hours are pretty irregular, so she has a lot of time during the day.

Douglas hasn't got a lot of friends because he can be rather rude whe n he's upset. Also, when he talks to people, he'll often tell them stori es that have nothing to do with the topic they're discussing. So, since he's impolite and talks about irrelevant things, it's not surprising he's been so unsuccessful at making friends.

Complete the conversation.

A: I can't believe Lincoln told his teacher to shut up and then just walked out of class! It was so impolite!

B: I'm just shocked that Mr Lewis didn't say anything in response. It's unbelievable that he put up with a student acting that way.

A: True, but I'm sure Lincoln will suffer the consequences of his actions. It's highly improbable that he'll get away with behaving like that.

A: I can't believe Abby didn't get the job at the hospital. She's a very respected doctor with years of experience. I find it incredible that they wouldn't employ her.

B: Yes, she's been very successful in her career, but she refused to work the night shift, and the position involved working at night sometimes. If she refuses to work those irregular hours, her past experience and knowledge is irrelevant.

Complete the second sentence so it means the same as the first. Replace the word in bold with an adjective with a prefix.

My friend can be so rude! This morning, she was on her phone all through breakfast.

My friend can be so impolite! This morning, she was on her phone all through breakfast.

I like Evelyn, but sometimes I get frustrated because she tells stories that aren't about the topic of conversation.

I like Evelyn, but sometimes I get annoyed because she tells stories that are irrelevant to the topic of conversation.

Complete the second sentence so it means the same as the first. Use an adjective with a prefix.

Some people manage to work different shifts each week and still go to university, but not working normal hours makes it very difficult.

It's not impossible for people to work different shifts each week and still go to university, but working irregular hours makes it very difficult.

Complete the second paragraph so it means the same as the first. Use an adjective with a prefix.

Frank had tried for several years to get a research grant, but he'd never succeeded. However, this year he not only received the grant, but they gave him £3 million! I couldn't believe it!

Frank had tried for several years to get a research grant, but he'd always been unsuccessful . However, this year he not only received the grant, but they gave him £3 million! It was unbelievable!

Complete the second conversation so it means the same as the first. Use an adjective with a prefix.

A: It's not impossible for Alex to win the race, but it is unlikely to happen. He's not very athletic, he's not fit, and he hasn't trained at all.
B: Yes, if he won, it would be a shocking and amazing story.

A: It's not impossible for Alex to win the race, but it's improbable. He's not very athletic, he's not fit, and he hasn't trained at all.
B: Yes, if he won, it would be an incredible story.

II.Vocabulary: Adjectives with prefixes 2

Complete the adjectives in the paragraph with the correct negative prefixes.

Todd mostly likes his job. He can wear jeans and trainers to the offic e no one cares if he wears informal clothes, and the pay is good. Ho wever, some employees are dissatisfied, because it can take a while t o get promoted – you have to be satisfied working in the same position for longer tha n you would at most places. People who stay do get promoted event ually, but some get impatient and leave the company.

Lying isn't illegal, but you still shouldn't be dishonest. It's especially irresponsible in important situations in which not knowing the truth can cause trouble.

Maggie left for the airport early in the morning. Usually there aren't many cars on the road at that time, but she encountered some unexpected traffic because there had been an accident. It was very unfortunate, as she missed he r flight. However, she travels a lot, so she took it well and just booke d a new flight. If she'd been an inexperienced traveller, it would have been a much bigger pr oblem.

Complete the paragraph.

Erin liked her town and flat. She had a lot of good friends. Everyone thought she was very satisfied with her life, so when she suddenly moved to Australia, it was very unexpected .

Nick has had a hard time getting a job, even though he's very experienced in his field. He made some very silly and irresponsible choices when he was younger, so, even though he's an excellent worker now, no one wants to employ him. It's very unfortunate .

Complete the sentence. Use an adjective with a prefix.

I told my nephew that he had to wait to eat dessert, but he didn't want to wait. He's terrible at waiting – he's so impatient.

Complete the conversation. Use adjectives with a prefix.

A: I can't believe Amanda wore jeans and a T-shirt to the dinner party! Didn't she know you aren't supposed to wear informal clothes?
B: I don't think so. She'd never been to a dinner party before so someone should have told her, really – Amanda's so inexperienced with this sort of thing, no one should have expected her to know.

A: Mike got arrested. He was stealing money from the shop he works at.
B: Really? He's not very nice, but I wouldn't have expected him to break the law.
A: I'm not surprised that he did something illegal . He's always lying and trying to trick other people into doing things for him. He's always been pretty dishonest .

A: Did you hear that Lucy and Tim have broken up?
B: Wow! I didn't – and I never would have guessed they would. They seemed so happy!

A: Yes, I was really surprised as well. It was pretty unexpected .
B: They seemed so good together. It's sad.
A: Yes. Well, Lucy decided she wanted to be with her old boyfriend. She ran into him unexpectedly when her car broke down and he stopped to help her.
B: How unlucky!
A: Yes, Tim seems to be unfortunate when it comes to girlfriends. But hopefully he'll have better luck in the future!

A: I can't believe Andy just quit and left this afternoon. He's a nurse, and we've got a lot of patients at the moment. He should have stayed and looked after them – we were all depending on him. It was very irresponsible of him.
B: I agree. I know he's been unhappy here for a while – he's been complaining for months that we don't get paid enough and the hours are too long. But even though he was dissatisfied with the pay and the hours, he shouldn't have just left like that.

III.Grammar: Past modals of deduction 1

Choose the sentence that means the same as the one below.

I'm sure someone stole my bike.

Someone could have stolen my bike.
Someone may have stolen my bike.
Someone stole my bike.
Someone must have stolen my bike

It's impossible that Nina took the money.

Nina might not have taken the money.
Nina couldn't have taken the money.
Nina must not have taken the money.
Nina may not have taken the money.

I believe it's possible that my flatmate ate my sandwich.

My flatmate must have eaten my sandwich.
My flatmate could have eaten my sandwich.
My flatmate may have eaten my sandwich.
My flatmate might have eaten my sandwich.

Complete the sentence.

Holly's coming to the concert with us! Her boss must have approved her request to take time off.

Dean and Riley might have written their essay already.

I haven't seen my cat all day. She might have got out of the house!

I didn't see George at school this morning – he could have stayed at home.

Complete the conversation.

Josh couldn't have broken into Ms Fisher's house at 9 pm last night – he was at the cinema with me at that time.

A: Oh no, I've left my keys at Laura's house, and she's leaving to go on holiday for a week. How am I going to get into my flat?
B: Call her straight away. She might not have left yet.

A: Have you seen Kelly today?
B: No, I haven't, and I haven't seen her car in the car park. I don't know for sure, but she might not have come to work.
A: Maybe. Or she could've taken the bus.

IV.Grammar: Past modals of deduction 2

Complete the second sentence so it means the same as the first. Use past modals of deduction and the correct form of the verb in bold.

My wallet isn't in my bag! I think someone has stolen it!

My wallet isn't in my bag! Someone may have stolen / might have stolen / could have stolen / must have stolen it!

Wesley didn't call me. He definitely forgot.

Wesley must have forgotten to call me.

It's impossible that Chuck broke into your house at 7 pm last night. He was with me.

Chuck couldn't have broken into your house at 7 pm last night. He was with me.

I'm not sure if Melissa's flatmate told her that I called.

Melissa's flatmate may not have told her that I called.

A: Where did Holly go after school? She's still not home.
B: I don't know. She didn't mention any plans, though she did say she needed to get some things at the supermarket. She might have gone (go) there. I wouldn't worry – I'm sure she'll be back soon.

Complete the conversation with past modals of deduction and the correct form of the verb in brackets. Some sentences may be negative.

A: Oh, no! I think I've left my credit card at the restaurant!
B: You couldn't have left / can't have left (leave) it there. You used it to pay for the taxi we took home from the restaurant.

A: Lee told me that Irene has been shoplifting!
B: I don't believe it – he must have lied / must have been lying (lie) to you. Irene would never do anything illegal, and Lee is pretty dishonest.

A: Why didn't Nadia and Gina bring the cakes?
B: I'm not sure. They may not have read (read) my text asking them to bring them.

LESSON B

I.Vocabulary: Verbs of effort 1

Complete the sentences.

Lisa has been working on building a robot for a competition for months. She wants to be a r obotics engineer after she graduates. She's very good – if she sticks with it, she'll probably be very successful.

Miguel's dream is to be a nurse. At the moment, he's working 12 hour shifts at the local hospital, in addition to studying. Sometimes h e finds it hard to cope with the gruelling schedule, but he's determined not to give up.

Hilda's a respected scientist now, but she had a lot of challenges in th e past. However, she overcame all of them and became very successful.

In order to become an actor, Richie had to move across the country, away from his parents and fiancée. He also had to take on two jobs t o support himself. He's had to make a lot of changes to pursue his dr eam of being an actor, but he says it's been worth it.

Running that marathon was really difficult –
I ran over 42 kilometres in just four hours! I also had to train for mo nths and cope with aching muscles from running so much. But now that I've done it, I f eel like I can tackle any challenge – I think I'm going to climb a mountain next.

Dennis had always dreamt of being a great artist. When he got poor marks at art college, he was very upset. He really wanted to quit, but his professor convinced him to not give up
. Dennis stayed at college and is now a successful graphic designer.

Doctors are often in very stressful situations and have to make incredibly important decisions. They have to learn how to manage that responsibility and it can be difficult to cope with the stress sometimes, too.

I'd love to join you for dinner, but I've got an important job interview with a famous tech company next week, so I need to work on my interview skills. I really want to impress the interviewers.

II.Vocabulary: Verbs of effort 2

Complete the sentence.

Rebecca wants to be a famous director one day. She spends a lot of time working on films with her classmates.

Alfonso is studying two subjects at university – law and engineering. He loves both of them, but sometimes it's hard for him to cope with all the work.

I wish I'd stuck with playing the piano. I used to be very good, but now I can't play at all!

Alan is a professional skateboarder, but he had a hard time getting started. For example, he broke his leg, and he also had to borrow other people's skateboards until he had enough money to buy his own. He's had to overcome a lot of problems, but now he's achieved his dream!

Alicia is entering an art competition, where the first prize is a scholarship to an excellent art college. She really wants to win, so she's been working on her painting for months.

Tony loves to challenge himself to do very difficult things. For his most recent challenge, he tackled mountain climbing. He climbed a very high mountain in a little over three hours – it was very impressive!

Brody was very disappointed when he didn't qualify for the tennis tournament. He was ready to give up tennis, but his coach convinced him to stick with it, and he's glad he did, because he qualified for the tournament the following year.

Danielle's dream is to be a gymnast. To achieve it, she's got to have a very rigorous schedule – she practises gymnastics for two hours before school, goes to school, does her homework and then practises for another two hours. Sometimes it's hard to cope with the lack of free time, but she knows it's important to work hard.

Unfortunately, people who achieve their dreams usually have to give up other things along the way. You'll have to make a lot of hard choices to pursue your dreams and become successful.

If you want to achieve your dreams, don't quit. If you give up, you'll probably regret it!

III.Grammar: Wishes and regrets 1

Complete the sentence.

I wish I had more money. Then I could follow my dream of travellin g the world.

I wish I could stop eating sweets – they're so bad for you, but they're so delicious!

I wish I had a bigger house. It's so small, I can't have many guests to stay.

Janet loves the sea. She wishes she could go scuba diving so she cou ld explore more of it.

I'm not prepared for the test at all, because I just played video games last weekend! I wish I 'd studied more last weekend.

A: I've got a cough and I keep sneezing.
B: You should go home and rest.
I hope you feel better soon!

A: This subject is so boring.
B: I know! If only we didn't have to take it!

A: I can't believe our holiday is almost over! I wish we could stay
for another week!
B: I know. I wish we had a few more days here, too. But it will be good to be home!

A: I hope we get that research grant! Think of what we could do with all that money!

B: I know! If we'd had that money, we could have started our research sooner – it was silly that we didn't apply last year. We really should have applied then.
A: Yes, I know. I wish we had applied
last year – we'd be a year ahead of where we are now!

A: I wish Thomas would break up with his girlfriend. She makes him miserable.
B: I know! If only it were that simple! He loves her. But I hope he finds someone nicer.
A: I agree. We shouldn't have asked him to go to James's birthday party with us – if he hadn't gone to the party, they never would have met.

Grammar: Wishes and regrets 2

Complete the sentence. Use the correct language for wishes and regrets and the words in brackets.

My flatmate drives me crazy – he's so messy, and he won't get off the sofa! I wish he'd move (he / move) out, but unfortunately, he loves it here, so he won't leave.

I don't really like my job. I wish I could get (I / get) a new job, but there are no jobs available at the moment.

I spent a lot of money on shoes just before my car broke down. As a result, I haven't got the money to get it repaired. I wish I hadn't bought / shouldn't have bought (I / not buy) those shoes.

I just saw an ad for my dream job, but I'm too inexperienced for it.
I wish I had (I / had) more experience in my field!

Complete the sentences with should have or shouldn't have and the verbs in brackets.

I was offered a very good job with a great salary last year, but I said no so I could travel with my friends. Now I don't have enough money. I shouldn't have turned (turn) down the job. I should have taken (take) it instead of travelling with my friends.

I threw away the receipt without trying on the jeans. They don't fit, and now I can't return them!
I should have tried (try) on the jeans first. I shouldn't have thrown (throw) away the receipt.

Read the information below and complete the sentence.

My brother's always late. He's really unreliable.

My brother's always late. If only he were / If only he was / I wish he were / I wish he was more reliable.

My life would be much easier if I had a car.

If only I had / I wish I had a car.

Complete the conversation with the correct language for wishes and regrets, and the words in brackets.

A: I'm sorry I can't come to your concert. I wish I didn't have (I / not have) to work.
B: It's OK. I hope you can come / hope you come (you / come) to the next one.
A: Yes! I'll be there. I wish I could come (I / come) tonight, but I'll definitely be there next time.

A: I wish I'd studied / should have studied (I / study) medicine at university when I was younger, instead of acting. I'd be a doctor now, instead of working here.
B: I'm not happy with what I studied, either. I don't like my job, but it's my fault. I should've studied / wish I'd studied (study) something else.
A: If only we'd made (we / make) better choices.
B: Yeah, but it's not all bad. Of course, I wish things could be / wish things were (things / be) different sometimes, but our lives are pretty good.

LESSON C

I.Listening: Celebrating good news 1

Listen to the conversations and choose the correct answers.

What do the people have good news about?

their families their work lives their education their relationships their housing

Andrew's presentation was perfect.
Jeff is happy with Andrew's presentation.
Jeff thinks that a good manager makes very few mistakes.
Jeff thinks that good managers overcome issues well

What is Andrew's good news?

His presentation went well.
His boss liked his presentation.
He got a new job.
He got a promotion.

What is Yasmin's good news?

She's going to be a manager.
She's travelling to Paris.
She's achieved something she's wanted for a long time.
She's continuing her education.

How do Andrew and Yasmin plan to celebrate his promotion and her studying in France?

by going out for dinner
by taking a trip
by eating something special

What advice have Andrew and Yasmin got about how to be successful?

to cope with problems without getting upset to overcome problems no matter what you have to do to not give up to be self-confident

What is Leila and Marcus's good news?

They're getting married.
They got married.
They've chosen a date for their wedding.

How do Leila and Marcus plan to celebrate their engagement?

They’re going to have a party.
They're going to invite a lot of people.
They're going to eat at someone's house.
Yasmin is going to make the food.

II.Listening: Celebrating good news 2

Read and listen to the conversation.

Part 1

Andrew: Jeff? You wanted to see me?
Jeff: Yes, Andrew. Please come in. I wanted to talk to you about your presentation today.
Andrew: Yes, I'm sorry about that. I tested all the technology before the meeting. I've got no idea why it didn't work at first.
Jeff: Andrew, you're not in any trouble – quite the opposite! I was very impressed with your presentation today.
Andrew: You were? But it took me so long to get the technology working.
Jeff: True, but your presentation was well-researched and clear. You stated everything in a way people could understand.
Andrew: But the slides took forever to load.
Jeff: Yes, and you calmly worked on it until you were successful. You didn't give up. It's impossible for everything to go well all the time. Being a good manager isn't about doing things perfectly – it's about quickly and effectively dealing with problems when they come up.
Andrew: Thank you.
Jeff: And you did that today. Andrew, I'd like to promote you to manager.
Andrew: Wow, thank you! I really appreciate it.
Jeff: You're welcome!

Part 2

Yasmin: Hi, Andrew. How did your presentation go?
Andrew: Oh, it was pretty awful, Yasmin! I had a lot of problems with the technology.
Yasmin: I'm sorry to hear that. Why do you sound so happy about it?
Andrew: Well, my boss was impressed with how I dealt with the problems in the meeting and with the information in the presentation, so he promoted me to manager.
Yasmin: Wow, that's great! Congratulations.
Andrew: Thanks! We should celebrate. Hey! Let's call Leila and Marcus and see if they want to go out for dinner tonight. It's on me!

Yasmin: Well, hold on. There's something else we have to celebrate.
Andrew: Oh, yeah? What is it?
Yasmin: I've got into catering college in Paris – I leave next week!
Andrew: Wow, that's been your dream since… for ages! I'm so happy for you. Hey, why don't we go to a French restaurant tonight?
Yasmin: That sounds great!

Part 3
Marcus: So tonight we've got a lot to celebrate: Andrew's promotion…
Andrew: Thank you very much, Marcus!
Marcus: … and Yasmin achieving her dream of going to catering college in Paris!
Yasmin: Thanks, Marcus.
Marcus: So, Andrew, what was the secret of your success?
Andrew: Well, I guess just remaining calm no matter what problems you have to overcome.
Marcus: Yes, wise words. And Yasmin?
Yasmin: I guess just sticking with my goals and having the confidence to pursue my dream, even if it seemed impossible sometimes.
Marcus: Excellent advice! Well, let's celebrate big changes in all of our lives!
Andrew: Just a minute. What's changing for you and Leila?
Leila: Well… Marcus and I are engaged!
Andrew: Wow! That's great! Congratulations, guys! We need to have a party.
Yasmin: I've got too much to do to plan a party. How about we have a quiet dinner at my place, just the four of us? I can cook dinner for all of you.
Andrew: Are you sure it won't be too much trouble? You're leaving for Paris soon. You must have a lot to do…
Leila: Andrew, be quiet! Let her cook – I'm going to miss her cooking once she goes to Paris!

III.Speaking: Describing how you felt; Interrupting and announcing news 1

Read the conversation below and choose the correct endings for A's response.

A: Look what Greg surprised me with for my birthday – a ring! We're getting married!
B: Wow! Congratulations!
A: Thanks! …

I was so surprised.
It was quite a blow.
I was expecting it.
I was really pleased.

A: I lost my job today. I'm so upset – I really loved working there. And I was so surprised.
B: Oh, no! I'm so sorry to hear it.
A: Thanks …

I was really pleased.
I was expecting it.
It was quite a blow.
I still can't get over it.

A: Congratulations to Ana for graduating from university with a first-class degree!
B: Thank you. Actually, I was expecting it. I worked really hard.
C: Well, you deserve it. Now let's cut this cake!
A: Just a minute. I've got some news, too. I've just bought a house!
B: Wow, that's great! Congratulations to you, too!
C: Yes, congratulations! That's very exciting. Now, one more thing– can we eat this cake? It looks delicious!

A: Guess what? The charity I work for got a million-pound grant! It's too good to be true. I can't believe it. Let's celebrate!
B: Congratulations! But hold on. There's something else we have to celebrate – I got the marketing job!
A: Wow! That's great!

Choose the correct numbers to order the conversation.

3 Wow! Congratulations. I didn't even know you'd applied for the course.
1 Guess what? I finally got that promotion! Let's celebrate!
4 I didn't tell anyone because I didn't think I'd get in. I wasn't expecting it.
2 Congratulations! But there's one more thing: I got into university!

A: I've won a free holiday to Thailand! I'm so excited. I still can't get over it!
B: Wow, that's great. Congratulations!

A: I've just found out my flatmate's moving out. Now I have to find someone to move in by next month!
B: Oh, that's terrible! I'm so sorry.
A: Well, I was expecting

it. He'd wanted to live alone for a while. But it was still quite a blow.

A: I won the robotics competition I entered! There were so many cool robots, I can't believe they chose mine for first place. I wasn't expecting it. Let's celebrate!
B: Just a minute. I've got some news, too. My sister-in-law is pregnant. I'm going to be an uncle!

A: Congratulations to Michael on getting a business loan. Now he can pursue his dream of owning a restaurant!
B: Thank you. I was really pleased

.
A: Well, you deserve it. Now let's eat cake and celebrate!
C: Wait. There's one more thing. I'm moving to China at the end of the month. I've got a job teaching English.
B: Wow, that's amazing! Congratulations! We've got a lot to celebrate.
A: Just a minute! Don't forget the cake!

A: Guess what? I was chosen for the football team. I can't believe it!
B: Well, I can. You worked really hard. Congratulations.
A: I was so surprised . Let's celebrate!
B: Hold on. There's something else we have to celebrate – I've got into the tennis team!

IV. Speaking: Describing how you felt; Interrupting and announcing news 2

Read the information and the statement. Record your response.

You've received a scholarship to study English in London for the summer.

- Interrupt your friend who is announcing other news.

- Announce your news.
- Describe how you felt.

Useful language:
Hold on.
There's something else…
Just a minute.
There's one more thing.
Hang on a minute …
I can't believe it.
I was so surprised.
I still can't get over it.
I wasn't expecting it.
I was really pleased.
I was expecting it.

We've got a lot to celebrate. Sam and I have just moved into a lovely great new flat, and Krista has had a promotion at work!
Close

Example

A: We've got a lot to celebrate. Sam and I have just moved into a lovely new flat, and Krista has had a promotion at work!
B: Hold on. There's one more thing we have to celebrate. I've been awarded a scholarship to study English in London for the summer. I still can't get over it. I wasn't expecting it.

Tap to start recording
You can play it once stopped

ANSWER

As my friend excitedly began to share their news, I couldn't contain the excitement bubbling inside me any longer.

"Wait, wait, hold on a second!" I interjected, unable to wait any longer.

"I have some incredible news too! I've received a scholarship to study English in London for the summer!" I blurted out, barely able to contain my excitement.

My heart raced as I shared the news, a mixture of disbelief and elation coursing through me. The thought of studying in London, immersing myself in the language and culture, filled me with an overwhelming sense of joy.

I could hardly believe it was real. It felt like a dream come true, a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity that I had never dared to imagine possible. And as the words left my lips, I couldn't help but feel a surge of gratitude for the chance to embark on this incredible journey.

LESSON D

I.Reading: Story: extract from a diary

Read the diary extract and choose the correct answer.

I sat at the airport, holding a ticket to Paris. Everything I owned was packed in my suitcase, and I was leaving my home town for the first time in my life. I was finally pursuing my dream of being a chef in Paris. I had worked exceptionally hard to get here, but was I ready?

I had been cooking at the best restaurants in my town near Edinburgh for years. I was well-respected in my field. I'd even won some awards for my recipes when I was a student at catering college, and people often paid me to make the food for their important events. But as the head chef at the restaurant where I worked reminded me, I was a 'big fish in a little pond' – I had done well in our small town. But how would I do in a big city, internationally known for its superb food and fine restaurants?

The night before I left, my friends and family had had a party for me. Everyone had said that I would do well, and I had believed them. I felt like failure was impossible. But now, alone and waiting for my plane, I wasn't so sure. I boarded the plane, trying to ignore how nervous I was.

After getting off the plane, I went into the toilets to change from my comfortable travelling clothes into something more formal. The top student at the catering college was picking me up, and I wanted to make a good first impression. His name was Luc Bertillon. I was a bit anxious – I imagined that he was born and raised in Paris, and was serious, critical and competitive – he was their best student, after all! But I was also determined to prove to him, and everyone else at the college, that I was an excellent chef who deserved to be there!

It didn't help that I got lost on my way to baggage reclaim. Eventually, someone helped me find it, though they were a bit impolite because I didn't speak much French. By the time I'd finally found Luc, I was 45 minutes late and had lost all my confidence. I was expecting him to be angry, but he just laughed and said the same thing had happened to him the first time he'd come to Paris. He'd grown up in Scotland, just like me! He had a French name because his father was French, but his mum was Scottish. He was kind, sensible and funny. We talked during the entire journey from the airport to my tiny new flat. It was as if we were old friends.

That was two years ago. I've since graduated from catering college. Luc and I are both chefs at one of the top restaurants in Paris. We also run a mentoring programme for students from the UK who want to come to catering college in Paris – we thought that we could use our experience to help them plan for and make the change from living in the UK to living and studying cooking in Paris. And the best part is, we're engaged! I knew my life would change the day I boarded the plane to Paris, but I'd had no idea how wonderful it would be. Leaving my home town was the scariest thing I've ever done, but I'm so glad I took the chance!

What main event does the diary extract describe?

starting a new life in a new country being an award-winning chef getting lost on a very important day meeting someone who was a bit rude

How does the writer feel while she's waiting to board the plane?

anxious doubtful excited self-confident

How did the writer feel at the party?

anxious confident doubtful
Excited

What problems does the writer have at the airport?

She realises her clothes are too informal.
She can't find her luggage.
Luc is rude to her.
She upsets someone with her language difficulties.
Luc is angry with her.

Which sentences describe Luc?

He's from Paris.
He has no sense of humour.
He's a nice person to be with.
He can easily make people laugh.

What's the writer's life like two years later?

She's still a student.
She's teaching at the catering college.
She's a chef in Paris.
She works with her friends.
She helps British people who want to study cooking in France.
She's getting married.

What would be a good title for the diary extract?

A Plane Ride to Paris
My New Dream
The Day My Life Changed
Lost at the Airport

II.Writing: Making a story interesting

Complete the sentence.

I stood at the edge of the boat, trying to make myself jump into the sea.

I closed my eyes, imagining myself in the magical world below the waves.

I 'd wanted to get my scuba-diving qualification for years, and this was it – my final test. But as I waited on the edge of the boat, it seemed like maybe my dream was actually a really bad idea.

As part of my diving course, I 'd spent hours practising in a pool for all kinds of situations. Scuba diving in the pool had been easy. But could I do it in the sea?
I took a deep breath and jumped . Suddenly, I was surrounded by freezing water.

Choose the correct endings (A–D) for the beginnings of the sentences (1–4).

1. Luckily, I'd bought the wetsuit for the coldest temperatures possib le,

C

2. I took another deep breath,

B

3. I sank down into the sea,

D

4. Brightly coloured fish went past me,

A

Complete the paragraph. Use the correct past tense or verb + -ing form of the verbs in brackets.

I swam (swim) deeper, focusing (focus) only on the beautiful scenery around me. The water was (be) as blue as the sky. I felt (feel) like I had entered (enter) a special, secret place.

This was (be) what I 'd been training / 'd trained (train) for. This was (be) the reason that scuba diving had been (be) my dream for so long.

Suddenly, I realised (realise) that I had got (get) so distracted by the underwater world that I had lost (lost) my group. I started (start) to panic. None of my training had prepared (prepare) me for this!

At that moment, I felt (feel) a hand on my shoulder. I turned (turn) around, breathing (breathe) quickly. It was (be) my diving instructor. He had noticed (notice) that I wasn't (not be) with the rest of the group, so he 'd gone (go) looking for me.

Read the full story and choose the correct answers.

I stood at the edge of the boat, trying to make myself jump into the sea. I closed my eyes, imagining myself in the magical world below the waves. I'd wanted to get my scuba-diving qualification for years, and this was it – my final test. But as I waited on the edge of the boat, it seemed like maybe my dream was just a really bad idea. As part of my diving course, I'd spent hours practising in a pool for all kinds of situations. Scuba diving in the pool had been easy. But could I do it in the sea?
I took a deep breath and jumped. Suddenly, I was surrounded by freezing water. Luckily I'd bought the wetsuit for the coldest temperatures possible, thinking that the sea would probably still be cold in early spring.
I took another deep breath, making sure I had enough air and everything was working properly. I sank down into the sea, going further into the deep blue beneath me. Brightly coloured fish went past me, swimming through the water in large groups. I swam deeper, focusing only on the beautiful scenery around me. The water was as blue as the sky. I felt like I had entered a special, secret place. This was what I'd been training for. This was the reason that scuba diving had been my dream for so long.

Suddenly, I realised that I had got so distracted by the underwater world that I had lost my group. I started to panic. None of my training had prepared me for this! At that moment, I felt a hand on my shoulder. I turned around, breathing quickly. It was my diving instructor. He had noticed that I hadn't been with the rest of the group, so he'd gone looking for me. At that moment, I thought I'd failed the test. I was so upset, but my instructor let me take the test, and I did everything perfectly – all my practice had been worth it. After I'd finished, he handed me my certificate and told me not to worry about getting lost – he told me it happens all the time. That was three years ago, and now, as a marine biologist, I use the skills I learned to get that certificate almost every day.

Which methods does the writer use to make the story interesting?

using phrases with verb + -ing to describe actions and events using short sentences to describe thoughts and feelings asking questions to show what the writer is feeling stating the outcome using very short paragraphs

III.Writing: Story

Write a short story about a time you had to do something you were nervous about.

Here are some ideas:

- Say where the event took place.
- Describe the preparation for the event.
- Write about different steps you had to take.
- Describe your feelings before and during the event.
- Include any problems or obstacles you encountered.
- Include the outcome.

Remember to use:

- short sentences
- direct questions
- verb + -ing
- past perfect to explain the background actions

Example
My friends and I hadn't thought our pop band was ready to play a concert. We were all new to playing our instruments. We were so bad that we had written all our own songs, because other musicians' music was too complicated for us. But our friend Scott, who was a very good guitarist, had told us that we should book a show so we would work harder. As we got ready to play our first concert, we looked at each other – why had we listened to Scott?

When I looked past the curtain, it was a nerve-wracking moment. Almost everyone I knew was there, waiting for our performance to start. We took our places. My friends Liz and Shaun picked up their guitars. Emily stood at her keyboard. I sat down at the drums and picked up the sticks. The curtain lifted. Once I started playing, I wasn't nervous anymore. I was just having fun with my friends, like when we practised. The time just flew by.

When our last song ended, the crowd cheered. As we left the stage, everyone told us what a great job we had done. Other musicians asked us about how we'd had the ideas for our songs. It was an amazing night.

Answer:

It had been months since I had even thought about speaking in public. The last time I did, it was a disaster. The memory haunted me, creeping up every time I considered stepping onto a stage.

But here I was again, facing the same fear. The opportunity to present my research at the conference seemed like a dream come true. Yet, as the date approached, my nerves threatened to suffocate me.

Had I prepared enough? Would I stumble over my words like last time? Doubts consumed me, but there was no turning back now. I had to face my fear head-on.

Standing behind the podium, I could feel the eyes of the audience on me. My palms were sweaty, my heart racing in my chest. Taking a deep breath, I began speaking, the words tumbling out in a rush.

Surprisingly, the more I spoke, the easier it became. The audience nodded along, their interest piqued by my topic. I was doing it. I was actually doing it.

As I finished my presentation, a wave of relief washed over me. I had conquered my fear, proving to myself that I was capable of more than I had ever imagined. And as I stepped down from the stage, a sense of accomplishment filled me, knowing that I had faced my nerves and emerged victorious.

THE END

Academic Skills

UNIT – 10 POSSIBILITIES

LESSON 1

I.Lead-in

Listen to the recording about marketing campaigns. Choose the correct description.

celebrity or sports endorsements
public advertising
memorable logos

memorable logos
public advertising
celebrity or sports endorsements

public advertising
memorable logos
celebrity or sports endorsements

II. Listening 1: Identifying main points

Listen to part of a presentation about content marketing. Choose the speaker's four main points.

Companies often pay for content to be generated by the public.
Content marketing is always created by brand owners themselves.
Content marketing won't always try to sell you something directly.
People have a tendency to share content that makes them laugh.
People trust brands that seem to value customers as individuals.
Social media can give a product greater exposure.

III. Listening 2: Identifying opinions

Listen to the end of the presentation and the questions from the audience. Match the speakers with the opinions.

The presenter
says that it's important to make content which views the public as a v alued part of the process.

The presenter
highlights an example where a brand uses online and offline platfor ms.

Questioner 1 (Magda) thinks that companies that offer to show customers how to use a pro duct will make money.

Questioner 2 (Felipe) thinks that brands need to distinguish between online and offline ca mpaigns.

Questioner 2 (Felipe) disagrees with some of the presenter's ideas.

Questioner 3 (Ruby) supports the presenter's ideas.

IV. Listening 3: Identifying expressions

Choose the purpose of the identifying expressions. Then listen and check.

What do you mean by … ?
Asking for clarification

What I'm trying to say is …
Clarifying and explaining

Why do you say that … ?
Asking for clarification

Could you say more about … ?
Asking for futher information

The reason for this is that …
Clarifying and explaining

If I understand correctly, are you saying … ?
Asking for clarification

Is there any other reason why … ?
Asking for futher information

Can you back that up with research?
Asking for futher information

V. Reading 1: Identifying main points

When everyone wants it

There are some products that everyone buys. Often, they are functional items, with little allure of their own. Then, there are those items that everyone wants to buy, the 'must have' products that resonate with consumers and create a community of fans who will seemingly pay whatever they can to purchase them. Most often, these products are part of passing trends and are discarded when a new season comes around, or a new product is launched. However, there are those products with cult status, a brand longevity that has staying power. This is what many brands seek to achieve as they invest heavily in content marketing. When cult status has been assumed, brand recognition is at its highest, and the product almost sells itself. However, it must be noted that cult status can be lost if a brand fails to evolve with changing times. Use of social media allows many smaller cult brands to grow their market share, but, conversely, increased exposure can mean that your original, loyal customers are lost on the way. One way that cult brands have got around this is by looking at their products as multi-generational. A long-term vision, where customers of all ages are carefully targeted, ensures that success is less about reliance upon the past and more about using original identity as a way to preserve future sales. Another approach is to create limited-edition ranges that still retain some of the cult qualities that made the brand attractive to begin with.

Read the first part of an article about successful marketing campaigns. Complete the sentences.

The products that the majority of people buy are things that are useful.

are things that aren't fashionable for long.
are things that the people want.

The writer suggests that products with cult status are usually very expensive.

are often very rare.
continue to be bought by people over a long period of time.

The writer suggests that to achieve cult status, many brands produce lots of different kinds of products.

sell a lot of the products.
spend a lot of money on advertising.

The writer suggests that brands stop having cult status when they become popular.

when they don't adapt.
when they launch on social media.

One risk of becoming popular is that people think you are too small.

people want you to sell more products.
people who originally liked your product stop using it.

Brands can grow and maintain cult status by appealing to different age groups.

appealing to different age groups or being more specialised.
making fewer products.

VI.Reading 2: Identifying main points and supporting details

Once cult status has been achieved, there are a number of possibilities for brand extension to occur. This is especially true of smaller brands, which can operate in a more agile fashion and don't require marketing campaigns to be approved by large management teams or shareholders. One recent trend has been brand tie-ups, where businesses collaborate to share some of their appeal. However, such collaborations need to have a sense of purpose. Collaboration can't just be about putting a logo on something to sell more. Brand partners need to work together to ensure the collaboration is more than the sum of its parts. One interesting example of this tie-up process was between the shoe company Grenson and the sports shoe brand New Balance, whose collaboration was part of a five-year development plan. The outcome, entitled 'One Shoe, Two Factories', brought craftsmen from Grenson's team to New Balance's factory. The result of shared design ideas was a limited-edition pair of leather sports shoes. While the 800 pairs brought in significant revenue, the most important result was the marketing story of craftsmanship and a collective vision.

This attitude is shared by the British bike company Brompton. They often look at partner companies that share the same values of innovation and quality. Their goal is not to sell another bike to existing customers, but to use collaborations to reach new audiences who may be attracted to Brompton's ethos. Brompton worked with The Cambridge Satchel Company to launch a special-edition bike with an integrated leather satchel. In doing so, they underlined their commitment to handmade local products, and also raised their media profile.

Read the next part of the article. Complete the sentences with up to three words from the article.

Small companies can respond to the market quickly because they don't need decisions to be approved by senior managers or other stakeholders.

It is extremely important that brand collaborations share a sense of purpose .

The Grenson and New Balance partnership had a five-year development period.

Their collaboration allowed for an exchange of manufacturing and design ideas and produced significant revenue .

Brompton works with other companies that have similar ideas about innovation and quality.

Brompton's collaboration with a local business helped to boost their media profile.

VII. Reading 3: Identifying main points and supporting details

Once cult status has been achieved, there are a number of possibilities for brand extension to occur. This is especially true of smaller brands, which can operate in a more agile fashion and don't require marketing campaigns to be approved by large management teams or shareholders. One recent trend has been brand tie-ups, where businesses collaborate to share some of their appeal. However, such collaborations need to have a sense of purpose. Collaboration can't just be about putting a logo on something to sell more. Brand partners need to work together to ensure the collaboration is more than the sum of its parts. One interesting example of this tie-up process was between the shoe company Grenson and the sports shoe brand New Balance, whose collaboration was part of a five-year development plan. The outcome, entitled 'One Shoe, Two Factories', brought craftsmen from Grenson's team to New Balance's factory. The result of shared design ideas was a limited-edition pair of leather sports shoes. While the 800 pairs brought in significant revenue, the most important result was the marketing story of craftsmanship and a collective vision.

This attitude is shared by the British bike company Brompton. They often look at partner companies that share the same values of innovation and quality. Their goal is not to sell another bike to existing customers, but to use collaborations to reach new audiences who may be attracted to Brompton's ethos. Brompton worked with The Cambridge Satchel Company to launch a special-edition bike with an integrated leather satchel. In doing so, they underlined their commitment to handmade local products, and also raised their media profile.

Read the second part of the article again. Choose True or False.

Small businesses aren't as good at extending their brands as big businesses. False

Collaborations are about more than sharing logos. True
Grenson and New Balance looked at their project as a way of sharing skills. True
Brompton's aim in collaborating with other companies was to sell more bikes to its usual customer base. False
Their collaboration with The Cambridge Satchel Company demonstrated Brompton's belief in using handcrafted items from suppliers in their own area. True

Extension

LESSON 1

I.Reading Extension

Read the blog about regrets and the comments. Match the people with the regrets.

Any regrets?
(Posted by Jon, 24 March)

A survey of over a thousand men and women in the UK aged over 25 found that, if they could go back in time, 22% of married women would choose a different husband. Only 12% of men say they should have chosen a different wife! The survey also found that 30% of people wish they had chosen a different career, 35% wish they had chosen a different course at university and 37% wish they had saved more money. Finally, 53% said they wish they had travelled around the world more when they were younger.

I'd have to get married before I could comment on the first two statistics. But if I could go back in time, would I choose a different college course? Maybe. Would I have travelled more? Definitely, but then I think I really did all the travelling I could with the money I had. What about you? Would you have done anything different when you were younger? Do you have any big regrets?

Lisa
I do sometimes think back to one exam at university. It was one of my final exams and I did OK – I didn't fail it – but I didn't get a very high mark. As a result, my final mark for my whole degree was lower than it could have been. I think I was unfortunate. I'd revised for weeks, but there was one question in the exam on a topic that I didn't really study so much – it was something that didn't interest me and we only looked at it quickly on the course, so I didn't think it would be in the exam. So even now, I often think – if only I had studied that one topic a bit more! But it didn't really matter. I still graduated and I don't think my life would have been so different if I'd got that higher mark – I suppose it would have been nice just for myself and my family.

Shane
Personally, I think the most important thing is to enjoy your life now and not think too much about the past and how things could have been different. I sometimes think about one job interview I went for just after finishing school. I'd planned to get the train to go to the interview, but because I prefer driving I decided to take the car and ended up getting lost in a city I didn't know very well. So I arrived late, which didn't create a good impression, and I wasn't offered the position. I was devastated at the time, but two months later I got a much better job. So instead of regretting, I think we should look to the future and concentrate on overcoming problems we can actually change – I think everything happens for a reason.

Tony
I wish I'd spent more time with my children when they were really young. I had a high-pressure job with long hours and regular trips overseas. So although I tried to see my children as much as possible, I devoted a lot of my time to work because I thought I should be earning as much money as possible. On weekdays, I rarely saw them, because I left for work before they woke up and got back after they'd gone to bed. Unfortunately, I think it's often easier to say 'no' to family than it is to work. Someone once told me: 'If you lose money, you can always earn more, but if you lose time, you can never get it back.' I didn't really understand what that meant at the time, but now I'm older, I do.

Mike
I think that when you regret something, you can use that experience to work on your weaknesses and do better in the future. You learn from what went wrong and the mistakes you made, and make sure you do things differently next time. I was really irresponsible at school. I should have studied harder. But that was a good thing, because at university, I realised my mistake, and I really worked hard and I appreciated the opportunity to study there. So in that case, regret really helped me change my behaviour.

an experience at university Lisa an experience while looking for work Shane not spending time with the family Tony not studying enough at school Mike not travelling more Jon (the blog writer)

Shane thinks regrets are not useful.

Jon regrets something that was probably unavoidable.
Lisa regrets something that was mostly important for personal reasons.
Mike says you can learn from regrets.
Tony understands something better now than in the past.

More men than women wish they had chosen a different partner. False

Jon (the writer of the article) isn't married. True

Lisa did badly in the exam because she didn't spend much time studying for it. False

Shane thinks he didn't get the job because his train was late. False

Tony generally only saw his children at the weekend. True

Mike thinks his lack of effort at school made him a better university student. True

II.Writing Extension

Write a paragraph about a regret that you have or that someone you know has.

Write about:

- what the regret is
- why you, or the person, chose that course of action
- how your, or the person's, life would be different now if things had been different then.

Answer :

I remember a friend once confiding in me about a significant regret they carried with them. They deeply regretted not pursuing their passion for music when they had the chance. At the time, they chose to prioritize stability and practicality, opting for a more conventional career path. They believed it was the responsible choice, but now they realize they sacrificed their true calling for the sake of security. If they had followed their passion for music, their life might have been filled with artistic fulfillment and a sense of purpose that transcends material success. Instead, they often wonder what could have been, haunted by the melodies left unplayed and the dreams left unfulfilled.

III.Listening Extension

Listen to five people talking about recent events. Match the people with the situations.

John

a car accident
a work meeting
an interview for a university place
losing an object
meeting someone on the street

Martha

a car accident
a work meeting
an interview for a university place
losing an object

meeting someone on the street

Geno

a car accident
a work meeting
an interview for a university place
losing an object
meeting someone on the street

Barry

a car accident
a work meeting
an interview for a university place
losing an object
meeting someone on the street

Emil

a car accident
a work meeting
an interview for a university place
losing an object
meeting someone on the street

Listen to the five people again. Match the emotions with the people. There are three emotions you do not need.

John

Confident

Martha

not hopeful

Geno

surprised

Barry

fortunate

Emil

Angry

IV. Speaking Extension

Record yourself talking about something that happened to you in the past that you are unable to completely explain. Answer the questions.

- What happened?
- Do you think you will ever find out why this happened?
- How do you feel about this event now?

Tap to start recording

You can play it once stopped

Answer :

I remember one incident from my childhood that still baffles me to this day. I was playing in the backyard, completely absorbed in my own little world, when suddenly I heard this eerie, melodic humming coming from the bushes. It was like nothing I'd ever heard before—beautiful yet unsettling. I cautiously approached the source of the sound, but as I got closer, it abruptly stopped, and there was no one there. I searched the area thoroughly, but there was no sign of anyone or anything that could have produced such a sound. To this day, I still can't explain it.

As for whether I'll ever find out why it happened, I'm not sure. Part of me wants to believe it was just my imagination playing tricks on me, but the memory feels so vivid and real. Perhaps one day I'll stumble upon an explanation—a forgotten wind chime hidden in the bushes or some natural phenomenon I wasn't aware of at the time. But for now, it remains a mystery.

Reflecting on this event now, I find it both intriguing and slightly unsettling. It serves as a reminder of how mysterious and unpredictable life can be, and it makes me wonder about all the strange phenomena and unexplained occurrences in the world. It's a reminder to stay curious and open-minded, even when faced with things that defy rational explanation.

Unit 10 - Progress Test

PART - 1

You will hear eight short recordings. For each one, choose the best answer. You will hear each recording twice.

You hear a conversation between a father and his son.

What did the boy nearly forget?

- his tent
- his coat
- his ticket

You hear part of a telephone message about exams.

What does the young man say?

- He wishes he'd studied more.
- He was disappointed with the results.
- His parents made him work too hard.

You hear two friends discussing a party.

What had the woman forgotten to tell the man?

- what time to book a taxi
- to leave work early
- what he has to wear

You hear a woman describing her reaction to a wedding announcement.

How does she feel about it?

- happy that she has been invited
- worried that it is too soon
- shocked because she wasn't expecting it

You hear a man talking about one of his friends.

How does the man feel?

- He doesn't understand why his friend has moved.
- He's amazed by his friend's choice of location.
- He's looking forward to seeing his friend again soon.

You hear a conversation between two students.

Why is the woman annoyed with the man?

- because he interrupted her
- because he disagreed with her
- because he didn't believe her

You hear two friends discussing an exam they've just taken.

How do they both feel?

- angry that the questions were not fair
- dissatisfied with their own performance
- worried that they will fail

You hear two friends talking about some good news.

How does the woman feel about the wedding?

. She thought it would happen.

. She hoped it would happen.

. She was upset to hear about it.

PART - 2

Read the sentences about people and feelings. Choose the best answer for each space.

I'm really pleased Peter's decided to stick with his original plan to travel, rather than work this summer.

I'd love to move to Australia, but I don't think I could cope with the weather.

You need to overcome your fear of heights if you want to be a firefighter.

I don't know how I'm going to tackle such a difficult race.

We normally beat that team, so losing was unexpected , but let's not worry about it.

He's been working on this project for weeks and he's getting bored with it.

I'm impressed by the way he never gives up, even when his team is losing badly.

I wish I had pursued my dreams to become a professional dancer, but it's too late now.

Part 3

Read the sentences about possibilities. What are the missing words?
Some letters are already there.
There is one space for each other letter. Complete the words.

The travel stories he tells are unbelievable – they just can't be true.

The prices at that shop are incredible – it's the best place to buy clothes.

I can't wait to get my exam results – I'm really impatient , I know.

If you were dissatisfied with the service, why didn't you complain to the waiter?

The teacher decided the information was irrelevant and told us we didn't need to read it.

It was really unfortunate that the weather was so bad on their wedding day.

The bus service here is very irregular ; you might have to wait.

It's illegal to drive under the age of 17 in the UK.

Part 4

Read the email about an incredible trip. Choose the best answer for each space.

My Incredible Trip

Well, here I am in Mumbai, at the end of my first month traveling around the world. I've seen hundreds of sights already! I wish you could have come with me. I've tried to upload the best photos, but I

25

26 may not have chosen the most interesting ones to show you. Actually, my camera's not very good and I wish I had bought a better one. If only I

27

28 had more time! India's beautiful and I wish I 29

could stay

here longer, but I'm flying to Thailand tomorrow.
I was sick last week so I didn't go very far. I'm not sure what made me sick. It might have been something I ate, but I'm always very careful, so I don't think so. It certainly 31 couldn't have been the meal I cooked myself as a birthday treat! I know I might 32 not have seen all the important sights, but I've had a great time. Thailand, here I come!

30

Part 5

Here are some sentences about possibilities. For each question, complete the second sentence so it means the same as the first sentence, using the word given. Do not change the word given. You must use between two and five words including the word given. Write only the missing words.

Look, that's Ben driving a car, so it looks as if he managed to pass his driving test after all!

have

Ben 33 must have passed his driving test after all!

I don't believe he wrote this note – the handwriting is different.

written

He 34 can't have written this note – the handwriting is different.

It's possible that he didn't steal the money.

not

He 35 might not have stolen the money.

I think that man was my teacher at primary school.

might

That man 36 might have been my teacher at primary school.

I regret spending so much money on this car because I can't afford to go out much now.

wish

I 37 wish I hadn't spent so much money on this car because I can't afford to go out much now.

It would have been a good idea to take a year off before going to college.

should

I 38 should have taken a year off before going to college.

I really want to find a better job.

wish

I 39 wish I could find a better job.

I'd love to come travelling with you, but I don't have enough money.

only

I'd love to come travelling with you, 40 if only I had enough money.